Village to bid rusty water 'bye

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

It looks like the residents of the Village of Antioch will finally be getting rid of a long-time problem, rusty water.

This was a campaign issue between Ray Toft and Robert Wilton in the last election. Wilton said that there must be some solution, while Toft said it would cost too much money and advised those so bothered to buy a water softener like he had.

According to Mayor Wilton, "A representative of Stiles Chemical, the company from which the village purchases the chemicals used in the water system, advised the village to install five new meters, one on each of the village wells."

"Right now we are adding the Aquadec and chlorine at the same time. We have been advised to put the aquadec into each well first and then, with a meter about seven feet away in each well, and everything being monitored, add the chlorine separately," said Wilton.

He added that he had contacted the Lake County Public Works Dept. and a representative there said that this method of adding the chemicals should do away with the rusty water problem that has plagued Antioch for years.

"We receive complaints on the rusty water practically daily," said Wilton.

The cost of the meter installation should be in the neighborhood of $200 apiece, or a total of $1,000.

"The whole thing should be working inside of two weeks," said Wilton.

Pending bills will have effect on Antiochans

There are several bills that have been approved by the state legislature that are now awaiting the signature of Gov. James Thompson which will have a profound effect on Antioch area residents if they become law.

The first will increase a resident's personal income tax by 20 percent for the next two years.

The next will effect only smokers because it places a 10-cent per pack tax increase on cigarettes.

Gov. Thompson is expected to sign a bill requiring that all school districts have a drug and substance abuse program in place. Another pending bill will require senior drivers to be tested on a regular basis; another puts an additional 6 cents per gallon tax on gasoline; another allows traffic impact fees on developers; and the last would place a ban on the use of tobacco in any form in all area schools.

Salaries top twp. costs in 1988

According to Richard Harland, Antioch Twp. treasurer, the Antioch Road Dist. had expenditures of $459,928 during 1988, with revenues just slightly less than $5 million.

At the start of the year, the road district had a bank balance of $282,532 and that balance was at $319,877 at the year's end.

The largest disbursements were seen under salaries, at $108,000; to Peter Baker and Son, $76,229; Skokie Valley, $43,852 and Thelen, $30,450 and most revenues came from property taxes.

Antioch Twp. received revenues of $349,153 from property taxes and $169,620 from a community block grant, the largest components of total revenues of $612,093.

Total salaries at $168,938 was the largest item under expenditures, with monies going to Winchester House, amounting to $118,237, the second largest expenditure.

Again, according to Harland's report, the township started the year with $116,127 in the general fund and $393,714 in the special fund. The township took in revenues of $277,170 and special revenues of $378,709.

At the end of the year, there was $173,325 in the general fund and $349,928 in the special fund.

Talks to begin on Chain patrol duties

by MIKE PRAMSHAFER
Lakeland Newspapers

Lake County Sheriff Clint Grinnell said negotiations regarding patrol responsibilities on the Chain O' Lakes will soon begin between county officials and representatives from various municipalities who are situated along the Chain.

Grinnell said the discussions will focus on what responsibilities municipalities will have in the future for patrolling and providing safety on the Chain.

The sheriff said he was disappointed after learning that a north suburban daily newspaper had written an article last month stating that the county sheriff's office "was considering ending water patrols on the Chain next year, claiming that job should be the responsibility of the surrounding towns and villages, as well as the Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Agency."

"That's simply not true. We have no intentions of ending water patrols on the Chain. We just want the municipalities to accept some responsibility," Grinnell said.

Currently, the county is the only water patrol outfit on the Chain. The Village of Fox Lake has a patrol boat, but Grinnell claims "they use their boat mainly within the village limits, which is fine."

He added that State's Atty. Fred Foreman has given a ruling to the Lake County board which stipulates that all municipalities along the Chain currently have patrolling responsibilities for a three-mile area.

According to the sheriff, though, a lot of the villages adjacent to the water haven't expressed any interest in patrolling the Chain due to lack of manpower, finances, etc.

Grinnell said the water agency will probably play a major role in the negotiations between the villages and the county. "We have to come up with an intergovernmental agreement regarding these patrolling responsibilities. I would never let the Chain go unpatrolled, but I do think the sheriff's department needs a little help. More and more people are using the Chain each year and the responsibility is getting bigger and bigger," he continued.

The sheriff said an agreement will hopefully be reached in time for next summer. He said he didn't know if the sheriff's department would be totally relieved of its patrolling duties. "We'll have to wait and see how the negotiations go," he said.

Not only is the responsibility getting larger, but Grinnell said the cost of patrolling the Chain is escalating as well. He said the sheriff's department maintains four boats on the Chain as well as 30 part-time employees of the marine patrol.

Libertyville's Jones to compete for title Mrs. U.S. Int'l. pageant

by KIM BOLTON
Lakeland Newspapers

Lynn Jones, Mrs. Ill. International, will be traveling to Dallas this week to compete in the Mrs. U.S. International pageant.

A resident of Libertyville, Jones is excited about the competition to be held Aug. 10 and 11 and says it is the only one in America that considers the emotional needs of a married woman and her family.

Jones and her husband of 19 years, Jim, will be flying to Dallas from Aug. 3 to 11 with the oldest girl of their five children, Dawn, and a small entourage of friends. She will be attending beauty workshops and practice sessions during the week before the competition.

Lynn Jones

Jones said having a good marriage is key to the Mrs. U.S. Intl. Pageant.

The theme of this year's pageant is 'The Magic of Love.' The Jones will be interviewed together in romantic settings on stage and around the city as part of the judging.

personal interview stresses intelligence even more than a sound body. Fifty percent of the score is based on the personal interview, according to Jones.

According to Jones, the Mrs. U.S. Intl. Pageant was formed with the idea of showcasing the achievements and accomplishments of married women across the country whose lives reflect traditional American family values. Jones decided to compete in the Mrs. Ill. Intl. Pageant because she believes it "provokes thought."

"The pageant itself celebrates strong committed married love relationships and the joy family life brings," Jones said.

According to Jones, the Mrs. U.S. International Pageant is non-exploitive. She said many people disagree with other pageants that have the contestants parade in swimsuits. This pageant is unique in that it requires contestants to model activewear and believes that activewear will show how well a woman cares for her body just as well as a swimsuit will.

"I think that says a lot about this pageant," Jones said adding that she believes it is important for judges in a pageant to see that a woman cares enough about herself to keep her body in shape.

The activewear modeling portion of the Mrs. U.S. Intl. Pageant is only a small part of the competition. The category which counts for the most points is the

"I think that in particular, this pageant challenges you to find out a little more about your own values and find answers to thought-provoking questions," Jones said.

A registered nurse who once portrayed Snow White at Disneyworld and modeled in McCall's and Simplicity pattern catalogues, Jones believes "any definition of a successful life must include serving others."

A volunteer for The American Cancer Society, Jones helps with cancer screening clinics for women. She is a volunteer for The Muscular Dystrophy and Children's Miracle Network Telethons and serves as a lactation consultant for physicians and hospitals.

Of all the appearances Jones has made throughout the state during the year, she has most enjoyed those where she addressed children. Jones says she encourages children to work hard on their studies.

One example of success Jones likes to use is Babe Ruth. She says he's a real inspiration to her and that many people know he hit 714 home runs, but few know he struck out 1,330 times.

"I like to tell them it isn't the times I've tried and failed that I regret, but the times that I didn't try," Jones said.

Jones and her husband enjoy sharing with others the joys they experience as parents. She says that of all her accomplishments, those with which she is most pleased are the ones within her home.

The Mrs. U.S. Intl. Pageant will be nationally televised with the date and time to be announced.

Proposed arts center may feature theaters

Two theaters, one seating 1,800 persons for musicals and concerts, and a smaller one of approximately 450 seats designed for dramatic productions are seen as centerpieces of the proposed Lake County Cultural Arts Center.

The two-theater concept was voiced as vital at a meeting of the Grayslake Development Council (GDC), sparkplug of the arts center plan, and a Winnetka architectural firm that is doing conceptual planning, gratis.

"We feel we can serve as a catalyst at this point. What components are you thinking about? What other needs are there?" inquired Forrest Wendt of Wendt Cedarholm Tipples.

Involvement of architects is another step towards utilization of 58 acres owned by the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., adjacent to Brae Loch Golf Club, one of the district's two 18-hole golf courses.

Among those attending the meeting were Dist. 2 County Board Rep. Audrey Nixon of North Chicago, chairman of the forest preserve district golf course committee, and county board chairman Norman Geary of Grayslake, representing Dist. 4.

For the immediate future, the golf course committee is turning its attention to expansion of Countryside Golf Course west of Mundelein.

Nixon has given art center planners six months to come forward with a comprehensive plan.

Meeting at the Grayslake campus of College of Lake County, GDC president

Edward Surroz stressed that "getting something on paper" is a vital step at this early stage.

Surroz said approximately $10,000 to $15,000 seed money will be sought from the private sector to fund preliminary planning.

Geary said he sees development of the arts center as becoming the "hub of the county" because of its advantageous location near the CLC campus and the Lake County Fairground across Center St. on Rte. 45.

Surroz stressed that development of the site, which includes an extensive wetlands area, can and must be done with private funding. "We don't want to put another burden on the taxpayers," declared Surroz, who operates a real estate and building business with his son.

Geary pointed out that a utilization plan for the forest preserve district is a welcome development for county officials. "We've been acquiring land with available funds. Buying land is one thing, but developing it is another question," Geary remarked.

William H. Schroeder, publisher of Lakeland Newspapers and a GDC member, said planners "shouldn't be afraid of looking at the big, long range picture at this point. Lake County is a big county with more than a half-million population. A multi-use arts center should be available to everyone," Schroeder stated.

Peter Lind, of the architectural firm, said 30 days should be sufficient to produce a site plan and renderings of a basic building.

Measles epidemic alerts suburbs

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

The report of a measles epidemic in the Chicago area, with 583 cases reported to date, the biggest outbreak in 12 years, has the suburbs to the north worried about the spread of the disease because of the mobility of today's society.

The largest measles outbreak in Chicago is found among inner-city children.

According to Mary Robinson, public information supervisor from the Lake County Health Dept., 19 cases of measles have been reported in Lake County so far in 1989. This is a 1900 percent increase over last year, since Lake County had no reported cases of measles in 1988.

So far, the measles explosion has not spread over the Wisconsin border, with Kenosha County having no reported cases and the entire southeastern region having only two or three.

"There is no real measles problem in Lake County so far, that's not to say it can't happen," says Joanne Bell, coordinator of immunization and communicable diseases for Lake County.

Because of a dramatic rise in the report of measles cases nationwide, there are some 20 years ago, the cases of measles reported in the entire country dropped from .5 million per year to 1,500 by 1983, but the count has been on the rise since, almost quadrupling by 1987.

In Chicago right now, in light of the epidemic, free vaccinations are being offered at many city locations.

In the Chicago area, the spread of the disease has been linked to school systems, especially colleges.

There is a big increase of reported measles cases out in Cook County, with 150 reported to the county health department by July 10.

The biggest cluster report is in Cicero, with 15 cases in that area alone, otherwise the cases are scattered pretty evenly throughout the county.

The difference in the pattern in the county, compared to Chicago, has the health department making different recommendations.

In Cook County, 64 percent of the measles cases are to be found in children six years and older.

The call for measles immunization from 15 months to 32 years of age has gone out in that area.

The recommendation for reimmunization for anyone over 32, that was vaccinated before 1970, has also been given for Cook County residents.

The fact that many of Lake County's cases are connected with those of college age, adds some fuel to the thought that older teens may be no longer protected by vaccinations they received when they were children.

"We are not advocating, or recommending, additional vaccinations at this time here in Lake County," said Bell, adding the present status of children 14 years old and over, having had the vaccinations at infancy and when starting school, is in compliance with school requirements.

The side and after effects of measles are the cause of concern. They include pneumonia, middle ear infections and more seriously, encephalitis which can lead to brain damage and/or retardation.

"There's no real measles problem in Lake County now, that doesn't mean it can't happen ----- we are not recommending or advocating additional vaccinations in Lake County at this time," said Joanne Bell, coordinator of immunization and communicable diseases for the county.

"Cosentino, who was elected state treasurer in 1978, has been an excellent financial watchdog for the taxpayers of Illinois," Moore said. "We particularly appreciate his efforts to lower interest rates on credit cards, as well as his success in creating jobs for Illinois citizens through creative financing to new and existing industries."

Terry Link, precinct committeeman in Shields Twp., serves as chairman of this year's Golf Day Committee. Golf will be played at Foss Park Golf Course in North Chicago, and dinner will be served at the Green Bay Shipping Company in Waukegan.

FUNGUS INFECTIONS

Fungi are tiny, plantlike organisms which can cause skin infections. The feet are especially vulnerable to fungi because the organisms thrive in dark, warm, humid environments, such as feet encased in shoes.

People usually become aware of fungus infections of the feet when they experience inflammation or oozing from the skin, or the formation of painful fissures. These cause itching and a burning sensation. A milder form of fungus infections leaves the sides and bottoms of the feet dry and scaling, with persistent itching.

These symptoms also can be caused by other conditions. The podiatrist can determine if it is indeed a fungus infection. If so, an appropriate treatment program can be carried out to overcome the fungi.

Nau's competency test postponed, stars warned

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

With the murder of television star Rebecca Schaeffer, 22, by an ardent fan, still headlining newspapers and tabloids nationwide, a Lake County prosecutor felt it necessary to warn at least 40 female celebrities of the impending release of a northern Illinois mental patient. The patient had written to the celebrities and had recurring fantasies about them.

Randall Stewart, assistant states attorney in Fred Foreman's office in Lake County, wrote the celebrities on a list that includes Olivia Newton-John, Sheena Easton, Cher and Farrah Fawcett, concerning the impending release from the Elgin State Mental Inst. of Ralph Nau, 34, formerly of Antioch Twp., on the border of Newport Twp.

Nau confessed to the ax-slaying of his retarded eight-year-old step brother, Dennis Gerken in 1984, but was acquitted after the judge threw out his confession because of mental incompetency.

Nau was sent to a mental institution in Chesterton and recently transferred to Elgin.

At the time of the murder, Nau, after leading deputies to the murder weapons, told sheriff's deputies that he had killed the eight-year-old in order that he could be with his mother who had died six years before.

To date, no one else has ever been charged with the Gerken murder. Both were living on an egg farm on Hunt Club Rd., north of Rte. 173.

The Gerken family has many members who have lived in northern Illinois, and southeastern Wisconsin for many years. Nau has reportedly written over 2,000 letters telling female celebrities of his fantasies that include them.

He also reportedly followed both Olivia Newton John to Australia and Sheena Easton to Scotland.

Nau's relatives, both in the Lake and Kenosha County areas, are worried about any impending release, many still blaming him for the death of his stepbrother.

Reportedly the competency hearing that was slated for the first part of August has been set to a later date.

The warning was sent to the stars in the wake of the John Lennon murder; the 5,000 threatening letters received by Michael J. Fox; the stabbing of actress Theresa Saldana; and the inclusion of actress Jody Foster in John Hinckley's reasons for the shooting of President Ronald Reagan.

Foresters pick Hallwas to head maintenance

Brian Hallwas has been named to head the Lake County Forest Preserve Maintenance and Operations Dept. The new supervisor is a Wadsworth resident and formerly lived in Antioch.

Hallwas recently earned the Master of Business Administration degree from Lake Forest Graduate School of Management. Prior to his appointment he was a full-time ranger police officer with district for the past seven years.

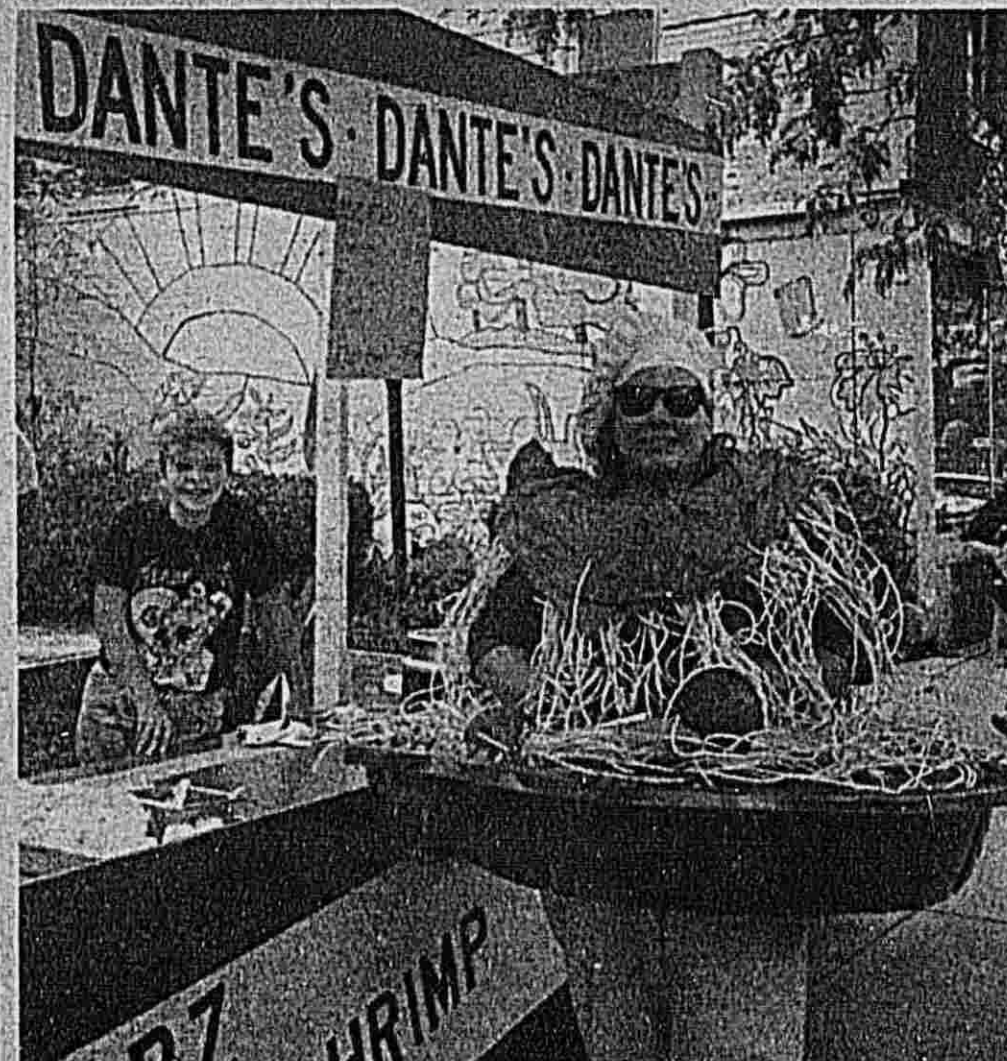

In his new post, Hallwas will oversee 27 full-time and 12 part-time workers who maintain the growing forest preserves and recreational facilities provided by the district.

In making the appointment, Dist. Forest Preserve President C. Richard Anderson said, "We are pleased to have a man of Brian's background and ability to take charge of this important responsibility. As the Lake County Forest Preserve system continues to grow to serve the residents, efficient maintenance of the many and varied facilities is most important."

Dist 34 talks attendance rate

According to Antioch Grade School Supt. Don Skidmore, the student attendance at Oakland and Petty was the best of the four schools in the district during the last school year. Although the attendance at the Upper grade School was the worst as usual, it was at 4,726 percent, less than the state average and slightly better than the previous school year's rate.

Santiemmo just misses another Bingo pot

Hometown History

Okay people, if anyone of you is suffering from illusions of grandeur, read on. During a recent visit to the lovely home of Ray and Mary Ann Lauer of Antioch, Ray told me something that I know will be of interest to you all. It seems that an area gun club located close to our town has been sold and is now being developed into a condo community. During the excavation of a portion of the land the builders have discovered it to be abundant in natural artifacts, dating back thousands of years. I always knew there was a lot of history in and around our "Hometown," but in my mind discoveries of this nature are suppose to take place in lands such as Egypt, etc. It sure makes one stop and think about who and what walked before us on the very lands on which our own homes are now built. It kind of puts a prospective on things. It gives a strong reminder that we are only a small part in the master plan of the universe. It brings to mind the mortality of us all. Ray also told me the developers of this property would either remove the artifacts for preservation or build around it to leave it undisturbed. As I went to bed that evening, I could not help but wonder who laid down to rest in this very spot in the distant past. When I am gone, I wonder how many to Call the Lizard" will ring on!!

Vacation Together

Some neighbors and friends living in our area do not get enough of each other on a daily basis; they even go as far as to vacation together. Such is the case with Bob Olenick and family, Gary Groh and family, Ray Brausam and family, and Millie Morenz and family. Recently these four families visited Macinack Island and Travis City, Mich. and the nearby cities with horses, she has returned to Antioch all excited over an idea to open a dude ranch. Marie is confident she can make it work and her daughters, Jenny and Kelly, have agreed to help and attractions. According to Darlene Olenick, the weather was beautiful and they all had a fantastic fun time! It seems this vacation has proven to be extremely fruitful for Marie Brausam. After they all went horse back riding and Marie realized she had a natural knack her in this venture. So it won't be long and Marie will be back in the saddle again training horses for her ranch, Marie, I just hope your customers like riding "Bucking Broncos that possess minds of their own! Sound familiar?

Cottage Guests

Wouldn't you all just love to not only own a nice comfortable home, but also have a small guest cottage located on your property for your out of town relatives and friends to utilize. Rose and Larry Reich of Florida were recently guests of Steve and Sandy Chinn the Chinn's cute little guest cottage. Rose and Larry are formerly from Antioch and were up from Florida to attend a family wedding. During their stay they visited with many of their Antioch friends. On the same note, Carol Simson is the temporary guest of Sally and Bill Hiller of Antioch. Carol is also from Florida and has decided to relocate in our area. Sally, playing the part of the perfect hostess, has extended her hospitality to let Carol stay in the extra quarters they have on their property. Yes, it must be nice living in the lap of luxury and be afforded the opportunity of entertaining your guests in style!

Belated Birthday

I have a belated July birthday wish for Lester Chinn who recently celebrated his 74th birthday with a small gathering at the home of his son and daughter-in-law in Antioch. Happy birthday, Lester, from Lizard and readers.

Forty-forty

Speaking of birthdays, "Lordy, Lordy, Look Who's Forty," "The World Belongs to the Young," "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "Can't Teach an Old Dog New Tricks," "It's Now or Never!" Well, Julie Groh, I told you I'd give you a special mention and recognition in the column on your special "40th birthday." Was this special enough? I hope you have a very happy birthday and I hope I am around to wish you a happy birthday when you turn "80!" Thanks to me, now everyone in our town knows your correct age.

Near Winner

Some people will do anything to win a few dollars at Bingo. Isn't that right, Pat Santiemmo? Pat is in the habit of going to Bingo with her father-in-law, sometimes her husband, and a friend or two. However, Pat complains of never winning no matter how often she attends. So now she has resorted to literally "screaming" out bingo even though the game was actually double Bingo and she only had a single Bingo. When she realized the error of her ways, she noticed she was receiving glares from various people in attendance. She began to get worried that the avid Bingo players were planning to hang her up by her toenails and throw Bingo chips at her. So, once again, Pat did not win at Bingo and in turn has learned to pay a little closer attention to what she is doing!

Special Occasion

Aug. 5 marks a very special occasion in the lives of Pat and Bill Lepsi of Antioch. Pat and Bill will be celebrating 50 years of wedded bliss on the fifth. Their son and daughter have planned a huge celebration for them on Aug. 12. All of their family members and friends will be gathering for an extravagant lawn party. There will be loads of food and drink, volleyball, horseshoes, and even dancing on the deck. I asked Pat to what she attributes the success of her marriage. She said mutual communication and a sense of humor on the part of both partners. I said you mean you don't feel like trading Bill in on a new model. She said no way, it took 50 years to break each other in - now let the good times roll! Congratulations to you both and when you celebrate 75 years together I'll play my accordion at your party.

Rumor

Has anyone heard the rumor that if you wash a new car too often you'll wear the finish off? In case it is true, Ray Brausam, I suggest you cut back on your car maintenance.

Birthdays

I will end the column this week with a long list of August birthdays and a special reminder to attend the Lions Club Chicken BBQ and Rescue Squad Auction on Sunday, Aug. 6, at Williams Park in Antioch. Happy birthday to Donna Schmehl, Barbara Schmehl, Christopher Marquart, Mary Nolan, Lynne Falcone, John Vaughan, Steven Franzen, Aaron Marsala, Kristin Franzen, Matt Fleming, Christine Foerster, Danny Marsich, and once again "40-year old", Julie Groh! I need tidbits, how about giving me a call!

MORTON'S NEUROMA

A pinched nerve in the front of the foot, usually between the third and fourth toes can be a torment, because the problem is deep in the foot there is usually no visible sign. There are however a number of clues that lead to a diagnosis of a neuroma.

1. Burning in the ball of the foot.
2. The feeling of walking on a stone or marble.
3. Numbness or tingling in the affected toes.
4. A sudden sharp pain in the forefoot that makes one want to remove the shoe and rub the foot.
5. Inability to be comfortable in most any shoe.

If you have the above symptoms or any other foot discomfort, you may contact Dr. Winters for a NO COST CONSULTATION to see if there may be an answer to your foot pain.

Smash bi-state theft ring

A federal grand jury out of Chicago has indicted the members of the Dell Organization for operating a nationwide jewel-theft ring that reportedly netted $1.7 million in stolen jewelry.

Indicted on Monday were Ruth Dell, Burlington, Wis.; Brian Dell, Salem, Wis.; Carl Kelly, Lake Geneva, John Seybold, Mundelein and two other individuals from out of the area.

According to the indictment, the jewel theft ring conducted at least six armed robberies and burglaries that included a $320,000 theft of ivory and gold from a trade show at the Olympia Resort in Oconomowoc, Wis., in 1987.

The indictment also charges that stolen goods were sold through Kelly's Gallery, Lake Geneva, Techny, Ill. in 1985; a $1.2 million hold-up of a van belonging to an import company in Libertyville in 1986; the theft of $60,000 from van in New York and a $150,000 theft of jewelry from a dealer's car in Ohio, in 1987.

The ring's headquarters is reportedly at the home of Ruth Dell in Burlington.

The indictment also accuses the ring of a $55,000 theft from a gift shop in

Era of harmony

Municipal leaders and County Board members appear to be off to a good start in forging a new era of inter-governmental cooperation. Harmony in the relations between the county and Lake County's 50 municipalities is long overdue.

The vehicle that hopefully will provide for "kinder and gentler" relations is the Municipal-County Cooperative Planning Committee, an organization that grew out of a need expressed by the Lake County Municipal League.

At their first meeting, committee members said it all in spelling out their fundamental purpose: Providing a forum for improved inter-governmental communication in an atmosphere of mutual respect and consideration. There will be plenty of projects to work on—the county's proposed framework plan, planning coordination, Forest Preserve acquisitions, impact fees, transportation needs, "911" emergency implementation. In reality, the list is endless.

The Cooperative Planning Committee offers exciting opportunities. Hopefully, there will be an end to the battling, back-biting, maneuvering, posturing and end-running that started between the county and municipalities when Waukegan "stole" Lakehurst Shopping Center from the county 25 years ago. Jagged nerve endings remaining from the Forest Preserve District's "midnight purchase" of Picket Fence Farm should be a thing of the past if the committee functions as envisioned.

The committee is made up of a blue ribbon cast of municipal and county officials. Serving as co-chairs are County Board Chairman Norman Geary and Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton, president of the Municipal League, which is represented by Mayor Marshall Strenger of Lake Forest, Mayor David Graf of Lake Bluff, Mayor Edward Tomkowiak of Wadsworth, Mayor Marvin Smith of Grayslake and Mayor James Keagle of Wauconda. County Board members are James Mitchell, John Balen, Samuel Payne, Carol Calabrese and Roberta O'Reilly. County Adm. Dwight Magalis and Municipal League Executive Dir. Paul Neal are staff liaison and coordinators.

We don't think it's asking too much to expect big things from the committee. After all, public officials are elected to serve the public. When they're working to outfox each other has happened all too frequently in the past two decades of rapid growth and development, officialdom hasn't always functioned in the public interest.

Stormwater planning

September will mark the beginning of what is hoped to be the final countdown on implementation of a comprehensive plan for stormwater management in this area. That's when the Lake County Stormwater Management Planning Committee moves into the approval phase, a process expected to take about 60 days.

Next phase is the ordinance adoption phase planned for November and December. The third and final phase is watershed planning, when professionals will be given the task of drawing designs and making decisions.

Lake County possesses over 78 distinct streams which feed three major river systems and Lake Michigan to comprise four watersheds on which all stormwater planning will be based. Approximately one-fifth of the county is composed of our 200 lakes, wetlands and flood plains. So stormwater planning is not a task to be taken lightly.

The Stormwater Management Planning Committee has developed an interesting 13-minute film to support public presentations. We hope as many citizens as possible have an opportunity to be informed of committee activities so that ordinance adoption will go smoothly.

We're playing catch up on stormwater management and there isn't any time to spare.

Carmel eyes 2000 with campaign for $3 million

by BILL SCHROEDER

Carmel High School has set its sights on raising $3 million in a fund drive called Carmel 2000.

There are no taxpayers in the wings for a private school. The 26-year-old Mundelein school serving more than 1,200 students who come from all over Lake County will be relying on alumni, family and friends to provide for the funds earmarked for teacher enhancement, much-needed physical plant expansion and scholarships.

"When I wake up in the morning and think about $3 million, it's scary," admits the personable young priest who serves as Carmel president. "But as the day goes on and I think about all the support we have and our resources, I feel better," the Rev. William Harry adds with a grin.

Members of the Carmel 2000 Feasibility Study Committee, headed by Lauren Drew of Libertyville, finished its work Aug. 1 and came away with the positive conclusion that the big fund raising task can be accomplished.

Their findings and the analysis of a professional consulting firm are being turned over to the board of directors for the final decision.

GARDEN PARTY—Libertyville attorney Don Deuster, an unreconstructed green thumb all the way, is going to put his handiwork on display Wednesday, Aug. 9, at his second annual garden party at his office at 137 W. Park Ave. The former state representative's tastes run to water lilies and lotus. Yes, the ponds really do contain frogs and goldfish. When the stress and strain of lawyering gets too heavy, Don merely steps outdoors and rolls up his sleeves.

BEST PARK—Mel Knirsch, retired sales executive who is a member of the College of Lake County Foundation, and his wife Roberta, a retired school teacher, are pretty certain that Palisades State Park near Savannah is the best camping site in Illinois.

The Knirschs never travel anywhere without tent and camping gear so they can enjoy that "once-in-a-lifetime" spot that looms up every once in a while. About the Savannah Park overlooking the Mississippi: The attraction, according to Mel, is that it's just far enough away "to make a trip," besides being nature at its best. When not traveling—and camping—the Knirschs are bellwethers of the Lake Region Historical Society, Antioch.

IN THE BLOOD—Rudy Grom may have left public life, but he doesn't stray too far from government. That's how the former city clerk of North Chicago turned up at a council meeting the other night at Fox Lake, where he and his wife are summer residents at Vacation Village, just to see "what's going on." The Groms are winter residents of Sun City West, Ariz. "We vacation year-round," exclaims Rudy happily.

STEPPING DOWN—Bob Schmerbauch of the University of Illinois Extension Service-Lake County is going to call it quits at the end of the year on the only job he's ever had. If Lake County still had any farms, Bob would be known as the farm adviser, but he's got another title now in keeping with our suburban nature. Schmerbauch, 55, started with the Extension Service downstate, and his speech and friendly, informal style reflect those roots.

Letters To The Editor

Swank hurts seniors

Editor:

Do you know what the new Libertyville Twp. supervisor, Ralph Swank, is up to?

He has taken it upon himself to remove all who were receiving general assistance and told them they could appeal and show up at a hearing, to be held in Waukegan. This panel consisted of supervisors of surrounding townships. The chairman of this panel said the guidelines were drawn up by Mr. Swank, but his office denies this.

I have a copy of these guidelines and they are absolutely ridiculous. The senior citizens seeking assistance need help to "get over the hump." These people came up through the thirties, forties and fifties, and did not make enough money to compete with today's cost of living.

I am 79 years old and handicapped from a stroke in 1984. I, as well as the rest, have received letters from Waukegan stating all assistance was being denied. Don't we wish we were young and could get rent, food and everything else free like many welfare recipients today?

It is time, I think, that the senior citizens rise up in protest along with the rest of Libertyville Twp. against the treatment given by Ralph Swank. If he can afford to give Mary Fitzgibbons $30,000 a year, why can't the senior citizens be taken care of? Certainly the salary of this newly created position of Libertyville Twp. could have provided much needed food and medical assistance for those needing such assistance in Libertyville Twp.

Boy's pleasures denied

Editor:

I have a grandson who lacks the ability to run, play sports or ride a bike as do most children his age.

He greatly enjoys feeding and watching birds eat, and watching them splash in their birdbath. Also, he loved to watch my neighbor's flag waving on its flagpole.

In the past few weeks, he has lost two of these pleasures. Some thoughtless, dishonest person or persons removed the birdbath from the child's front yard and stole the flag from the pole.

Support for MEG unit

Editor:

Mundelein Trustee Jeff Hayes is proposing that the village rejoin the Metropolitan Enforcement Group (MEG) in hopes of curbing some of the drugs in town. Mayor Marilyn Sindles thinks that this is an excellent idea and is working with Hayes to get this program off the ground.

I think it was about a year ago that there was talk by the Mundelein Village Board to rejoin the MEG group. At that time, it was a unanimous vote not to rejoin. I guess it's a woman's prerogative to change her mind, but where does Mayor Sindles really stand on this issue? I hope that Trustee Hayes isn't given all the credit for rejoining MEG. Former mayoral candidate Don "Gus" Johnson not only talked about this issue, but he printed it in every brochure he circulated.

If this man can't be elected to office, let's at least give credit where credit is due when it comes to drug enforcement. I for one endorse the program and say it's long overdue.

Political reprisal

Editor:

A petition was circulated by unnamed citizens against Robert Warrender's home. This petition will be duly considered by the village board.

This, of course, is just another ploy by some of the powers to be that harass and punish Mr. Warrender for his organizing a political opposition. The sad truth is that the village completely failed, in its responsibility to Mr. Warrender, by signing off on a house whose construction was so shoddy that no competent and honest building inspector should have approved it.

Due to the need of virtually rebuilding his house, it does not make any sense for him to do the type of lawn work that the petitioners seem to want. In fact, Bob has tried to solve the problem by discussing the matter with village officials and has gotten contrary suggestions from the village. As to the published comments that they were not able to contact the homeowner, Bob attends almost every village board meeting. So I am certain he's not really that hard for Mayor Ratch, Village Mgr. Stevens, or other officials to find.

Having allowed this problem to occur in the first place by either gross negligence or worse, it would be amazingly hypocritical for the village board to take after Bob Warrender for the condition of his property. I suggest that these "concerned citizens" come out and identify themselves and stop playing politics with what is already a sad situation. Apparently China is not the only place where working for democracy and an open government can subject oneself to political reprisal.

No sympathy for Smith

Editor:

I was absolutely livid when I read the "heart rendering" story of Lake Villa resident Mike Smith being punished for having no auto insurance despite a perfect driving record for 27 years and seven safety citations to prove it.

How dare they support this irresponsible *?!!?!! Sure, times are tough for a lot of us, my family included, but having had two cars totally demolished by uninsured drivers I have no pity for these people! We managed to eek out enough from our paychecks to carry coverage for these people and I'm glad we did; but why shouldn't they bear part of this burden? As far as I'm concerned, Mr. Smith is where he belongs, safety citations and all. He's got a lot of catching up to do.

Calls for moratorium

Editor:

In the villages of Libertyville, Mundelein and Vernon Hills, more and more residential annexations are being considered and actively pursued! In all three villages, we have serious water shortages, sewers that are overloaded and schools bursting at the seams. These are facts!

Why don't our elected officials place a moratorium on any further annexations until the basic needs are upgraded to handle the influx of new homes?

During the last two years water rationing has been in effect. Why, then, are more and more users allowed to further deplete supplies? Sewage systems and waste disposal are saturated, yet more and more users are added every day. Why?

Some of our elected officials and/or bureaucrats say that growth is good for business. Whose business? The downtown areas in Libertyville and Mundelein certainly don't gain, because strip malls and large shopping centers go up and not only immediately get the new business but siphon off existing customers. Case in point—Vernon Hills. Three corners of Milwaukee Ave. and Rte. 60 are presently covered. A new 600-acre shopping center is under construction in that same area. Why?

The water and sewers need upgrading immediately. Who is going to pay for that? You and me, of course.

And then the greatest lie in the world is spoken—"Don't worry, taxpayers, all this new building will not only pay for itself but it will increase the tax base and won't cost existing residents a thing." Baloney!

Ask any taxpayer in Libertyville Twp. how much their real estate taxes have gone down in the last eight or nine years. These are the years of unprecedented growth!

I am a firm believer in controlled growth and progress because I lived through the Great Depression of the '30s and am very much aware that to have a healthy economy we need the construction industry to be busy, but not to the point where developers and real estate speculators are making millions and being subsidized by the taxpayers.

If some of our pro growth people elected and otherwise have legitimate answers to the questions I have posed, I would certainly like to hear or read them.

Opposes incineration

Editor:

Everybody in Lake County knows where the garbage we burn in an incinerator will go. We can shut our eyes to it, but we can't shut our lungs or our children's lungs.

Consider how much plastic is put into our garbage every day. There are no stack precipitators or scrubbers made, even when new, even when operating under ideal conditions, that can remove all the toxic gases given off by burning plastic.

What we are already putting out in the air in industrial and automotive pollutants has almost brought the condition of our atmosphere to a point of no return. Industry pumps at least 2.4 billion pounds of toxic chemicals into the air every year. And we're going to put more of it up there?

If, with all we know today about the effects of what we release upon ourselves, we go ahead and put in an incinerator, then we are truly mad. And we may as well just empty our garbage into the streets. When it consumes us, at least we will have been honest with ourselves about where it came from and who was responsible.

I know incineration as an answer to our garbage problem looks like the easy way out. Pay some consultants, kick some money in, buy an incinerator and the problems will all go away.

Not this time! Our options are: We take care of this problem with a little common sense and a little hard work, or take it in our lungs.

Attacks unwarranted

Editor:

I am writing as a private citizen to express my concern about what seems to be a personal vendetta being waged in your newspaper by Joe Soulak against Charlie Johnston.

I have rarely seen such viciousness in covering people in office or seeking office. It almost seems his major crime was in deciding to seek the county board seat now held by Norm Geary. Soulak often refers to Charlie as a "PR person turned politician," as if running for office is something less than honorable. People who do run for office generally hold other jobs.

Another incident blown out of proportion was Soulak's attack on Charlie for picking up a bar bill following a Northwest Advisory Committee meeting on sewage treatment. He made it seem that Charlie picked up a $400 to $500 a month bar bill so that the rest of us could drink. I was there at the meeting. The bill came to $67, and only $9.50 of it was for the bar—the rest was for food and gratuity.

I was informed this $500 business got started several months ago when the county's representative, Suzi Schmidt, made an issue about it and claimed she had one bill alone for almost $55 for the county to pay. What she did not say was that the bill was a quarterly bill and covered six meetings—and that the bulk of every bill was for food, not drinks.

What was overlooked entirely was the serious point Charlie was trying to make. When he announced he would pickup the bill, he said that while he appreciated the county's newfound fiscal responsibility, he wished they would apply it also to the $15,000 to $20,000 per month they take out of our area in excess revenue.

I am one person who is glad to say I know him as a friend and concerned individual who has the interest of the people at heart. If you are going to attack him through columns, at least get your facts straight.

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

Last month was the annual meeting of National Association of County Officials. It was in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Lots of Lake County people were there. County Board

Norman Geary

Chairman Norman Geary headed a large delegation of board members. Like Debbie Halas and Audrey Nixon of Dist. 2, Bob Neal and Sam Payne of Dist. 3, Suzi Schmidt of Dist. 4, Carol Calabrese, "Mike" Graham and Andrea Bruce Hansen and C. Richard Anderson of Dist. 6. Neal is an officer in the association, but the county didn't pay for his attendance.

The county paid for each of the other delegates to attend the five-day convention. That's because they are chairmen or vice chairmen of a committee, Geary said, which Neal is not. So Neal paid his own way—the $225 convention registration fee, $75-a-night room and food for a $500-plus tab.

"I wonder if a developer paid for Neal's trip?" Geary asked. "He stayed in a more expensive hotel than the rest of us."

Two persons registered at $225 a head did not attend. They are board members John Balen of Waukegan and James Mitchell of West Deerfield. Mitchell had a foot operation. Balen's $225 absence is unexplained.

"Neal has more brass than the Chicago Symphony," Geary added. "He wasn't an officer of this association before going there. He was elected at a meeting of Republican followers attended by a handful of persons when he announced he was a delegate from Lake County."

Although he insists otherwise, Dist. 6 County Board member John Reindl of Mundelein is reported to be bowing out next year. He isn't quite up to the political rigors of county government. Who says so?

One of his running mates, Dist. 6 County Board member Bruce Hansen of Lake Zurich. Hansen has been trying to convince some Waukegan contacts to help him "balance" the ticket. The possibilities are endless.

Grayslake hasn't hamstrung or stonewalled the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist.'s efforts to acquire the 900-plus-acre Picket Fence Farm, said Mayor Marvin E. Smith.

This has been implied in what Smith calls "unfounded charges against Grayslake by the district's attorney, Donald Morrison.

"...the village did not receive a single request for information from the Forest Preserve prior to the subpoena of our village clerk," the mayor wrote. "The village responded to this subpoena and an additional one to our village manager fully and completely. Considering the subpoena was the first request for information, it is incorrect to infer that this resulted from the village's non-cooperative response to requests for information...."

The Picket Fence Farm issue is scheduled to be back before the court starting in September when all of the players return from vacation.

Donna Litwiler

Atty. Ned Fisher of Waukegan shot a blistering 77 at Midlane Country Club last week during the First Midwest Bank golf outing. This gave rise to speculation from fellow golfers he might take down his shingle and give the pro tour a shot.

Fisher wasn't phased by the plaudits he received. "That's the way I shoot," he said matter of factly.

Secretary of State Jim Edgar will announce for the governor's office on Tuesday, Aug. 8. To pull it off, he needs the help of Lake County.

That has created a scramble for the honor of serving as his county campaign coordinator. It is between two of his employees, neither of which are shrinking violets.

One is Donna Litwiler of Ingleside, senior citizen coordinator of his Libertyville driver's license center. She has shepherded Edgar around the county on past occasions. But as of late the unsuccessful 1987 candidate for Lake County clerk has been noticeably absent from GOP political doings.

The other would-be coordinator is Waukegan Twp. Republican Committeeman and party Chairman Jack Diamond. He works for Edgar as an auditor in the business and banking area. He is also one of 30 administrative assistants, who presides at ribbon cuttings and ceremonial functions when Edgar can't. Diamond has the political clout and moxie Edgar needs to roll up the northern Republican plurality to overcome his downstate opposition.

Edgar's campaign people will pick the local coordinators. No one knows who they will be until Aug. 8 or later.

Film Review

Tom Hanks seems to be one popular actor, who, good as he has been in past flicks like "Big," and "Punchline," can't seem to rise above mediocre material as in the flop, "The Burbs."

Well he's done it again with "Turner and Hooch" and it serves him right for violating the rule of all successful actors, "Do not appear with kids or dogs."

And in this case, Hank's mistake is a "really big one," in the body of a huge mastiff named Hooch.

Some yaks come when Hooch destroys Hank's house. The doggie bath scene could have been funny if it wasn't so messy.

Turner is babysitting with Hooch after his owner is stabbed and a lot more skullduggery takes place, making this not a kiddie-doggie pic.

The sparse funny bits are far outweighed by bad cops and robbers scenes.

Let's rate this a negative two out of five stars.

Aquanut pyramid

Aquanuts head for nationals

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

Founded in the 1970s, the Twin Lakes Aquanut Water Ski Team has been rebuilding, and many of the members that are heading for the nationals in Wisconsin Rapids, to compete against teams from northern and western Illinois and Wisconsin, on Aug. 12-13, will be there for the first time.

The teams to beat at the 1989 nationals will be the Janesville Rock Aqua Jays who won at Lambs Farm in Libertyville, and the Badgerland Ski Team, from Merton, Wis., 1989 state champs.

The 60-member team, now under the direction of George Mantoan and the club's president, Ron Bergsma, has placed third this year in two out of three of the big tournaments, Lambs Farm and the state tournament.

When the Aquanuts started out several years ago with members of the Sayers, Yunkers and O'Neil families the early daredevils, there were not as many organized amateur water ski teams in the state, not to mention nationally.

The present team, though it does have some seasoned members such as the Dunteman family, is a young, "third generation" team that has been rebuilding.

The Aquanuts have in the past taken the triple crown twice, six state titles and three national titles, so when they perform just outside of Wisconsin Rapids, they will have "big water skis" to fill.

The "varsity" ski team is made up of amateur skiers, age 14 and up, that come from as far north as Milwaukee and as far south as Chicago (many summer residents) to practice and perform three times a week in the summertime, besides in the three competitions.

For the last few years, many of the skiers have started working with the Junior Aquanuts, who range in age from 10 to 13-years-old.

The Aquanuts have been known for keeping the update of their show as current as possible, so what better theme for this year's show than "Batman."

Although the Aquanuts have long had some commercial sponsors such as Outboard Marine, they exist solely on the benevolence of the area businesses, municipalities, private donations, the proceeds from their benefits and donations taken the night of the shows.

The Aquanuts perform on Lake Mary, at their Lance Park Show Site and in Lake Geneva, on Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday nights during the summer season drawing capacity crowds.

The legend of Jamaica's White Witch of Rosehall

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

The crystal clear waters and white sand beach of your Jamaican resort are reason enough to spend your entire vacation right there. But since you have traveled all the way to this historic Caribbean Island, why not take a day and learn a little about its exciting and, often, mysterious history?

In the early 1800s, Jamaica, then still ruled by the British, consisted mainly of large sugar plantations. Standing on the highest ground of each of these plantations was the owner's mansion, or "great house," as it was known. Some of these remain today and are open to the public.

The most famous, or infamous, of these is located just east of Montego Bay and is known as "Rosehall." It was owned by a woman by the name of Anne Palmer. It seems Mrs. Palmer had trouble keeping a husband. Married three times, all three husbands suffered mysterious deaths.

Anne did not have any problems keeping the slaves of her plantation in line even without a man around. You see, she was raised on the island of Haiti and was said to have studied voodoo with a high priest in that religion. Whenever the slaves got out of line, she simply called some demon to appear. Anne Palmer was known as the "White Witch of Rosehall."

As usually happens in these stories, Anne picked on the wrong person. She put a spell on the daughter of a voodoo priest who had powers stronger than hers.

An old Jamaican who claims to know pointed out Anne's unmarked grave to me. About half-way between the Rosehall great house and the Holiday Inn, on the ocean side of the road, stand three palm trees. The White Witch of Rosehall is buried beneath the first tree.

Be sure to visit Rosehall or one of the other great houses during your stay in Jamaica.

Tempel Farms to host young riders' competition

International equestrian competition returns to the Chicago area Aug. 9-13 when Tempel Farms in Wadsworth hosts the North American Young Riders Championships. More than 140 riders, all aged 16-21 years, representing the U.S., Canada, Mexico, Australia, Bermuda, Guatemala and Puerto Rico, will compete for gold, silver and bronze medals in team and individual competition in the Olympic equestrian sports of dressage, three-day events and show jumping.

The championships, sanctioned by the world governing body of equestrian sports (FEI) as well as the American Horse Shows Assn., the National Equestrian Federation of the United States are being presented by American Bankers Insurance Co. and hosted by Tempel Farms. Gold medal sponsors include Rolex Watch USA, Pitman-Moore and Jane Forbes Clark.

The Young Riders Championships are an integral part of the Olympic dream for aspiring young equestrians, and are designed to stimulate Olympic competition. And these dreams can come true; 1988 Olympic show jumping silver medalist Greg Best was the individual gold medalist here in 1985 and will be coaching the Zone II team.

Dressage, a French word meaning training, is often compared to the compulsory movements in figure skating, requiring total harmony and teamwork.

The North American Young Riders Championships are organized under the auspices of the American Horse Shows Assn., the National Equestrian Federation of the U.S. The AHSA governs and promotes over 2,500 horse shows annually and is a Group "A" member of the U.S. Olympic Committee.

No spill to be seen on cruise

There is no chance that even a trace of oil will reach the route of Lakeland Newspapers' Daphne on her cruise through the Inside Passage. There will be no smudged glaciers or oil-smeared shoreline and the wildlife in Alaska's "pan-handle" will be as abundant as ever.

The Exxon accident in Prince William Sound was a tragedy, but the sound lies about 500 miles northwest of the Daphne's path.

Spellbound passengers on Lakeland Newspapers' cruise will find what they came to see—crystal blue glaciers cloaked in white and forest green, sleekly reflected in the pristine straits of the Alexander Archipelago.

Steamboat magic recreates touch of history, romance

by COL. BILL RADKE
Lakeland Newspapers

There is a magic about steamboating that recreates a nostalgic touch of history and romance in our hearts. We can't really be part of it, yet a riverboat trip on a paddlewheeler is a dominant desire among many of us.

The best known riverboats are the Delta and Mississippi Queens, foremost in popularity and legendary in fame. They have remained part of the American Heritage by retaining their authentic originality.

The Queen is still the Queen...one of a kind in the world. Covering nearly the entire Western River System, she and her crew court her passenger-subject in their own royal manner...and they love it.

Marietta, Ohio's first city, lies where the Muskingum and Ohio Rivers converge. We toured the Ohio River Museum, rife with steamboat memorabilia, models and photos.

The best understanding of that 200-year history comes from a multi-slide projector show combined to present "The River" to museum visitors.

Then we toured the floating portion of the W.P. Snyder, the last American stern-wheeled steamboat of its size, now a display of the Ohio Historical Society.

A second society display and only a block distant is Campus Martius, once the original fort and now a museum of the 1700's and the Northwest Territory. It's the heart of the permanent territorial settlement.

Riverboats were our lifestyle in Marietta. We stayed at the venerable Lafayette Hotel on the riverfront, the last of the great riverboat hotels. Here, guests have watched the passing of the Delta Queen counties times. The ornate riverboat cuisine is beautifully presented in the salon grandeur of yesteryear.

Even the famished hesitate to destroy the Victorian breakfast buffet table perfection...second only to the food itself.

Surrounded by authentic memorabilia, the Lafayette is like a turnabout in time. Call (800)331-9336 for information. It was General Putnam who landed riverboats troops in April, 1788 and built the protective fort on this site. Marietta is rightfully titled "Birthplace of the Northwest Territory," and remains an historical first.

An 1859-1906 ship captain's tombstone bears this thought: "There is no beginning of man, time nor space--so there is no end." More on this and other Ohio sites may be obtained by writing the Ohio Historical Society, 1985 Velma, Columbus, OH. 43211.

If, in planning a trip with others, you may have heard: "I'll go if we can go 'Dutch,'" generally indicating the desire to pay your own way. Moving from riverships to airships, this is also true when talking about KLM Royal Dutch Airlines--they certainly will welcome those who "go Dutch" to their many British Isles destinations.

This may sound like they're not just a Dutch airline...well, it's true. KLM flies to 76 countries on all continents but Antarctica. They really put wings on their wooden shoes.

There is such happening to attract travelers to the United Kingdom and vicinity this year. Scotland is getting ready for next year's bi-centennial celebration with Glasgow as headquarters.

Paris celebrates 200 birthday this year and may start a travelers' trend. Those who "Stop at the Savoy" and rub shoulders with popular personalities will enjoy 100-year birthday special at this world famous hotel. It not "Going Dutch" however, KLM says they will gladly accommodate commercial travelers. For general information and details of special Double Dutch Destination, call KLM at (312)861-9292, ext. 251.

Cruise provides comfort

by DENNIS and
MARY O'BRIEN

Southeast Alaska is a casual place. And the aim of the Daphne's crew and staff is to provide ease and comfort for passengers on Lakeland Newspaper's cruise. So bring clothes that you're comfortable wearing.

Dinner on board will always be a culinary event, with music from strolling musicians and incomparable service from European waiters. You'll want to dress up at least one night, though sports coats will be fine for men.

Since September temperatures in Alaska's panhandle are similar to Chicago's, "the layered look" will be appropriate--skirts, slacks or jeans, with a light shirt, a wool sweater and a windbreaker.

Lambs festival

Come hear the best bluegrass bands in the mid-west at Lambs Farm's third annual Bluegrass Festival from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 6. Lambs Farm is a non-profit residential and vocational community for mentally retarded adults.

Sponsored by the Illiana Bluegrass Assn., the festival features six Illinois- and Indiana-based bluegrass bands.

Steam Club show fetes 33 years

by BECKY JOHNS
Lakeland Newspapers

With the invention of gas-powered engines came the decline of the steam engine. But thanks to the Sycamore Steam Club, steam engines are neither gone nor forgotten.

The Sycamore Steam Club, which is celebrating its 33rd anniversary this year, began when founding members Rupert Jordan, Maynard Peterson and Charles Raymond—who were interested in steam power—collaborated on a steam power show.

This year, the club's show will be held at the Taylor Marshall farm in Sycamore from Aug. 10-13. The show will have "upwards of 20 steam engines, 100-150 gas tractors, and approximately 300-500 'hit-and-miss' engines—used for pumping water or grinding feed—all from the turn-of-the-century era.

The steam club show will feature steam-powered engines sawing lumber and thrashing grain, a model steam engine railroad, an old-time style show for the ladies, a large flea market, a pork chop barbecue and restaurant tent, and a daily parade at 1:30 p.m. showing off all the engines.

The parade will highlight such engines as J.I. Case, which is still manufacturing farm equipment in Racine, Wis., as well as Backer and Rumley engines.

The steam club is currently headed by Phillip Blanchard, who grew up on a farm in Round Lake. "We were the last farm in the area to thrash," said Blanchard, who went to his first steam club meeting 18 years ago. "I learned it on the farm, and I enjoy doing it now."

Blanchard reports that the club now has a membership of 450 from northern Illinois, southern Wisconsin, Indiana and eastern Iowa. "We're still a growing organization," said Blanchard. "I'd like more activities for the young people, to keep them in the club. I'd like to grow that way. Some day I hope we can acquire the grounds we have our show on, because it's such a beautiful spot."

Car Carnival on Aug. 20

Bill Grams, president of the Old Volo Shopping Center in Volo, has completed plans for the 14th annual "Carnival of Cars" Auto Show, to be held on the Old Volo grounds Sunday, Aug. 20.

This year's show promises to be the biggest and best ever, with people traveling hundreds of miles to see the huge display of cherished antique and specialty cars.

More than 300 cars are expected this year, ranging from custom cars, Corvettes, antiques, classics, replicas, street rods and other specialty cars.

In addition, lots of live entertainment is planned, including Dave "Elvis" Ehlert, one of the top Elvis look-alikes; Karrie Lynn, a country vocalist; and Double Feature, an exciting singing duo.

The show is held annually on over 50 groomed acres of trees and grass, making the Old Volo show unique and comfortable, compared to the many shows traditionally held on concrete and asphalt surfaces.

It's truly a family event. For the children, a model car contest is open to all, with trophies to be awarded, and girls are invited to bring and display their favorite dolls in the Doll Queen of the Carnival contest. There will be lots of food and drink, too, and a giant big top tent with special displays and activities.

The show also features Old Volo's own museum, featuring over 100 classic, antique and 60's muscle cars. The museum is the finest in the midwest, and all cars in the museum are available to purchase. Prices range from $5,000 to $500,000.

Owners of pre-'72 cars in any of the mentioned categories are invited to come and display their cars at the show. Each registration includes a show dash plaque, and more than 40 trophies will be awarded.

Registration for cars on display is from 9 a.m. to noon, and the show is open to the public from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Gate admission is $6 for adults, children under 12, $3, and all children under 4 get in free. Registration to show your car is $8 and includes two gate admissions and a dash plaque.

For more information on the show or to pre-register your car, call Grams at (815)385-3896.

Volo is located just 15 minutes from Great America, a half-mile west of Rte. 12 on Rte. 120.

Lot of 'good' in American school system—Sheets

Walter Sheets

by BILL SCHROEDER
Lakeland Newspapers

Despite all the criticism about public education, there's a lot of good in the American public school system. And it's getting better.

That's the opinion of a veteran Lake County school superintendent who retired after 35 years, working in all levels and "loving every minute of it."

Dr. Walter Sheets has no regrets about the profession he set his sights on while serving in the Merchant Marine during the Korean War.

After some vacation time—"I didn't realize how tired I was"—the 57-year-old educator plans on plunging right back into education. He hopes to get a position where he can help train principals, a subject he wrote his doctoral thesis on at Vanderbilt University.

The native of central Illinois is leaving the elementary system he served for 21 years in excellent shape, and he looks at three factors as giving great promise for public education in the future.

1. Teacher quality—"Our colleges and universities are doing a great job training young teachers. They're better trained; they're well trained in the new techniques. They're sharp, intelligent and disciplined."

2. Parental involvement—"This is one of the big changes in education today. The days of parental apathy are behind us. Today, parents are asking, 'How can we help? How can we get involved?' This is great for children, teachers and everyone."

3. Accountability—"This is good. I'm all for accountability, the state report card, test score comparisons, evaluations, school reform. There's nothing wrong in measuring what we do."

Sheets was superintendent of Gavin School, a middle-class residential district of 850 students between Fox Lake and Round Lake, for 21 years. His previous 14 years in education included grade school and high school teaching, a junior high principalship, assistant principal of Danville's largest elementary school and superintendency of Rossville Elementary for five years before moving to Lake County in 1968.

The Danville experience was somewhat unnerving. "I thought I wanted to be with a big system. It was rough. We had 18-year-old sixth graders. I left after a year," Sheets recalled with a chuckle.

After graduating from the University of Illinois, Sheets took a position at tiny Fairmount (near Champaign), where he taught sixth grade and high school biology in a system with less than 100 students. "I was paid $3,300," Sheets added with a grin.

Dr. Sheets feels that he is stepping down at the right time. "I needed a change, and the school needed a change."

The practical-minded educator touched on some of the realities of teaching. "The pressures and demands are terrific. The responsibilities are endless for superintendents. You have to worry about children, teachers, faculty, parents and taxpayers. Everyone in education wants to do the best they can. It's not always easy."

Sheets sees no lessening of pressures on the educational system. "We are coping with more social problems all the time. There's more peer pressure on children. Society is changing so much. Society is sending our children conflicting messages."

Asked to forecast the direction of public education in an area as diverse as Lake County, Dr. Sheets said he sees more consolidation in western Lake County and a move toward more diversification and neighborhood schools in the more affluent eastern parts of the county.

"I know that sounds incongruous, but I see that as a response to needs of the community. People are more involved now and they're willing to pay more for quality. Bigger districts can afford ability grouping and smaller classes. With the cost of busing going up, the neighborhood school makes sense again."

Asked if bigger is better in education, Sheets replied, "I'm afraid so. You get what you pay for."

In the always-budget-conscious Gavin district, Sheets said he was proudest of his success in providing a well rounded program while developing an atmosphere in which "children can learn as much as they can—learning for the sake of learning."

Sheets lamented the fact that the camaraderie among administrators isn't what it used to be. "I suppose that's because of the competition today. High expectations and high salaries are one of the marks of the 1980s," Sheets noted.

His wife, Shirley, is involved in a Head Start program. Daughters Jill, manager of a beauty shop, and Sydnee, employed at a title company, are employed locally. Son Curt is an electrician at the Northbrook Park Dist. Curt and his wife have two young children, providing for lively times at the Sheets' home in Ingleside.

CLC studies budget, LaVista gains contract

The College of Lake County Board of Trustees reviewed a 1989-90 college budget that shows a deficit of nearly $177,000 at its regular meeting in Highland Park.

The budget for the college's two main operating funds (the education fund, and operations and maintenance fund) totals $22,366,366. Revenues for the funds are budgeted at 22,189,663, resulting in a deficit of $176,703.

"If the governor signs a recently approved increased appropriation bill and all other projected revenues are realized, the deficit could be wiped out," said Arthur Kent, vice president of administrative affairs.

The college's financial situation has also been improved by increases in the tax base, a $3 per credit hour tuition increase, higher enrollments and reduced spending efforts over the past several years.

"The fiscal '90 budget begins to address a number of long-standing unmet needs of the college," said CLC President Daniel LaVista, "but many needs remain to be met from future budgets."

The tentative budget is available for inspection during regular business hours in the Business Office at the college's main campus in Grayslake.

A public hearing on the tentative budget for fiscal year 1990 will be held Tuesday, Aug. 15 at 6:45 p.m. in the board room (A206) at the Grayslake campus. The regular board meeting will begin at 7 p.m. on Aug. 15.

In other action, the board approved a new three-year contract for CLC President Daniel LaVista. His salary for FY 90 was set at $95,000, reflecting a 7.1 percent increase. The board also approved the usual fringe benefit package afforded to all administrators and partial payment of LaVista's state retirement contribution.

"The board is convinced that Dr. LaVista's educational leadership and vision are ideally suited to the challenges and opportunities facing the college," said Board president Richard Bryan. "The board looks forward to working with him in the years ahead."

As CLC begins its twenty-first year, three employees were recognized for 20 years of service to the college. They are: Virginia Hubbard of Grayslake; Irene Aken of Zion; and Walter Petersen of Grayslake.

In other action, the board: —withdrew consideration of a proposal to allow the Illinois Institute of Technology to offer four-year and graduate level credit courses on the CLC campus through interactive voice/video transmitted by microwave. The proposal was shelved for further study and may be reconsidered at the August meeting.

—approved hiring Sandra Rodriguez as a full-time English instructor. Rodriguez, of Barrington, has a BA in English and French and an MA in English from Northeastern University in Chicago. She is a former English department chair for Waukegan Public Schools Dist. 60.

—approved submission of the Resource Allocation Management Plan for fiscal 1990 to the Illinois Community College Board. The report includes financial, enrollment, personnel and instructional data, both historical and projected figures.

Stormwater committee pushes for bill veto

The Stormwater Management Planning Committee (SMPC) adopted a resolution at its last meeting opposing stormwater legislation that is awaiting Gov. James Thompson's signature. Richard Welton, mayor of Gurnee and SMPC chair, urged Gov. Thompson in a letter accompanying the resolution to veto Senate Bill 248. The bill would require limits to stormwater flow coming into Cook County from adjacent counties.

Welton contends that Lake County and its municipalities, through the SMPC, have been working intensively since January, 1988, on a comprehensive, countywide stormwater management plan that will address problems caused by stormwater runoff within the county and beyond its borders.

The proposed legislation, the SMPC resolution states, "attacks the problem at the wrong place, that being county borders, instead of implementing a stormwater management planning process to control stormwater where it falls." Further, the legislation "has the possibility of causing significant public costs to governmental agencies in Lake County without similar benefits."

What is needed, the resolution concludes, is "a cooperative stormwater management planning process in Cook County similar to what is being done in Lake County and DuPage County."

The SMPC, established in 1987 under state law providing for stormwater planning committees in northeastern Illinois counties, is a countywide committee of 12 elected officials with two representatives from each Lake County board district. The committee will present a comprehensive stormwater management plan for public hearing this fall, followed by presentation of the plan to the county board for adoption.

Veterans get more than $1 billion

Most of the money expended by the U.S. Dept. of Veterans Affairs (VA) in Illinois went directly to veterans during fiscal year 1988, according to Chicago VA Regional Office Director Samuel L. Holmes.

"Of the more than $1 billion distributed in Illinois last year, nearly 37 percent, or $396 million went directly to veterans as compensation and pension for disabling injuries or diseases incurred while in the armed forces," Holmes said.

He added that VA spent more than $28 million for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation benefits, $81 million for insurance and indemnity payments, $20 million for facility construction and more than $547 million for medical services and administrative costs in Illinois.

"The Dept. of Veterans Affairs proudly serves those who served our country," Holmes said. "For more than half a century, VA has been a deliverer of benefits, a pioneer in medicine, a financier in education, a guarantor of home loans and an advocate for Illinois veterans."

Estimated VA expenditures for Cook County Veterans totaled more than $600 million. This figure includes more than $165 million for compensation and pension, $9 million for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation and $35 million for insurance and indemnities.

An additional $14 million was spent in the county for construction of VA facilities and related support costs and more than $375 million was spent for medical services and administrative costs at these facilities, he said.

Quaker makes acquisition, establishes delivery guarantee

A year to the day after he penned the papers to buy Quaker Industries, chairman Jeff Pope and the new management team celebrated the anniversary by acquiring the fertilizer spreader business of Central Quality Industries, Inc.

Quaker, a solid, aggressive, 54-year-old manufacturing firm based in Antioch is a leading producer of tray tables, decorative steel shelving, a pioneer in the ready-to-assemble metal furniture market and a maker of outdoor furniture. The company has a long-standing reputation for reliability, quality and on-time delivery.

In the 12 months under new ownership, Quaker has enjoyed a major resurgence as a result of aggressive management and innovative product development. In just 52 weeks, Quaker has successfully introduced 52 new products to the houseware, hardware and outdoor furniture markets.

Central Quality builds a complete line of lawn spreaders that are considered to be the best in the industry. Of late, the company experienced difficulties due primarily to undercapitalization.

Well before the actual acquisition, Quaker executives mapped out plans for a smooth transition. Their first step would be the allocation of capital to the new spreader product line. That, in itself, would overcome the major past difficulty. Next, they'd move the whole operation under their own eight-acre roof in Antioch. In the process, they'd lay out receiving, manufacturing, assembly and finished goods warehousing in an ultra-efficient manner and plug each element into their proven Quaker systems.

Since Quaker has experienced and expertise in metal and plastic forming, finishing and assembly, manufacturing spreaders posed no new problems. On the sales side of the equation, all the largest Quaker customers and best prospects were also Central's. From a financial standpoint, there was yet another sign of a perfect fit: Each company's seasonal sales peaks occurred at different times. This balances both manufacturing and cash flow.

When the deal was done and the papers signed, the process began so that everything would be in place and on-stream well before the 1990 season.

"We're so confident about this," says Quaker president Lee Prager, "that we're doing something that nobody else in the business has been willing to do. That's to guarantee delivery."

FINANCIAL FOCUS

reported by Brosius D'Arcy

Although Japan has been in the spotlight for its international investments and its affect on global economy in the past two decades, it's not alone in an expanding world economy. Today, the gross national product of the United States is twice that of the entire world in 1970, and the G-N-P of the world has increased six times in the past nineteen years. This proves the entire world economy is growing rapidly and offering investors more opportunity than ever.

Although international investing has primarily been limited to institutions and professional investors, more and more individual investors are placing dollars in overseas markets.

Of course, international investing does have its risks, but, for the most part, its rewards have been quite good. If you're interested in sampling global investing, you may want to look at international mutual funds. As with any mutual fund, your dollars are diversified among a variety of investments, which means less risk to your hard-earned dollars.

Home sprinklers curb devastation

by CARON KREBS
Lakeland Newspapers

The trend for Lake County villages to zone large lots has created another trend for owners of new homes—mandatory sprinkler system installation to prevent extensive fire damage.

Legislation was passed in April 1988 in the village of Long Grove requiring the new homes built and those with 80 percent or more renovation to have the systems installed.

Long Grove, according to Grinnell Sprinkler System Co.'s Jan Baba, required the systems because of the village's zoning plans allowing for only one family per two acres.

She said a lot of homes in Long Grove and Barrington, which are spread far apart, have their own private wells with no hydrants and not enough water to put out a home fire.

Village Administrator Cal Doughty said about 150 new houses have been built since the legislation was passed.

He commented, "Sometimes you'd like to have a fire just to prove" the sprinkler system works, he seriously added that fortunately, there have been no fires in these new homes yet.

David Grupp, Long Grove fire chief, said that fires in the village are infrequent, but devastating when they occur.

Grupp noted that the ordinance isn't detrimental toward development, since builders are getting extremely proficient at installing the systems.

Baba said that Barrington is also trying to put through sprinkler system legislation.

Sandy Pointe Beach development in Lake Zurich is also required to install the systems in the homes.

Sprinkler systems have been used since before the electric light bulb. Grinnell Co. in Elmhurst, a pioneer in the industry, has been around for 150 years. Baba said the bucket-brigade system of putting out barn fires inspired the idea. Because it was discovered that water had to be spread out to put out the fire, a system of pipes with holes in them was developed for the barns.

Through the years, improvements have been made, such as hydraulic systems based on water pressure. Research has also been done to determine how much water is needed to put out a fire and where it should be targeted.

The principle of today's sprinkler system is rather simple. Soldered bits in the sprayer melt off when room temperature reaches a certain point (about 165 degrees in a residential building) and the water is released. Because it works according to heat, a sprinkler system will only go off one sprinkler head at a time, as each room gets hotter from the fire. The whole system doesn't go off at one time.

Baba said the actual purpose of the sprinkler system is to cool and soak a room, because fire can't spread to an area that's cool and wet.

Baba, who's been in a fire during sprinkler testing, said, "The smoke is so thick, you can't see through it."

She noted that actually, a fire can't spread through walls. Fires spread from room to room when heat causes carpeting or furniture, which burn hot and fast in a fire, to spontaneously combust in what is called a "flashover."

Baba estimated that it takes an average of five minutes for a fire dept. to arrive at the scene of a fire.

According to Grupp, it takes the Long Grove Fire Dept. about three to five minutes for the first engine to arrive. He said that the key time is actually the discovery of the fire.

Extensive studies have been done to determine what can happen in those five minutes from the time the fire starts until the fire dept. may arrive.

In about the first minute and a half, smoke rapidly descends from a living room ceiling downstairs and spreads throughout the house. About 15 seconds later, the smoke detector in a downstairs hallway is activated.

In less than three minutes, the room temperature where the fire started is about 300 degrees Fahrenheit.

Only 25 seconds later, the room temperature has reached to 500 degrees. Irreversible skin damage can happen within 60 seconds.

In less than four minutes after the fire started, the room temperature is 1400 degrees, and the heat ignites everything in the room so that windows explode (the flashover). Poisonous smoke permeates the house, and visibility in a second floor hallway is zero.

Although much of the house is never exposed to the flame, intense heat and smoke cause extensive damage to the other rooms.

Baba said although many people fear the water will damage, a fire will do a lot worse. She noted that if something is burned, it's harder to identify for insurance claims than if it's been soaked.

She added, "It doesn't take a whole lot of water to make something soaking" to prevent fire damage, but the water pressure from a fire dept.'s hose can take the paint off a car.

"A little water ain't gonna hurt it," she commented.

For those afraid that a sprinkler system will go off accidentally when there is no fire, she said the residential sprinklers are approved by Underwriter Laboratories and are tested at least 300 times before installation. There's only a one-in-16-million chance the sprinklers will leak.

Safety, of course, is the major justification for the sprinklers. Baba said most fires are accidental than intentional.

During the time of warning the residents have only a few minutes to flee the house before survival becomes impossible. Only five minutes after the fire starts, a few inhalations of the fire's smoke can be lethal.

Grupp said that since the sprinkler system suppresses the fire it's also beneficial for the firemen's safety.

The cost, Baba said, is minimal for the kind of protection it gives—about $1.50 to $1.75 per sq. ft. or about $5,000 to $12,000 for a home.

"If you can afford $800,000 for a home, you can afford the sprinklers," she added.

Family Mutual Insurance offers eight to thirteen percent off the entire homeowner's policy premium for a home with the system, which can add up for a larger home.

Mother Rudd project

This year's Gurnee Days will not only have the usual large variety of events, but those attending will also have a chance to be a part of history. As part of the renovation of Mother Rudd Home in Gurnee, a residents may buy a brick and have their name engraved. The Mother Rudd Home, the oldest in Gurnee, was built in the 1840s. For those who purchase a brick during Aug. 10-13 Gurnee Days, they will receive a dozen silk roses. Lakewood may take over Nike Forest's artifacts

Two Lake County Forest Preserve committees are supporting a proposed renovation of the Lakewood Forest Preserve area to house artifacts.

The artifacts would be housed in the present dog pound area at Lakewood, located off Rte. 176 in Wauconda and transferred from the Nike Forest Preserve site in Lake Zurich.

Also, ownership of the artifacts would be taken over by the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. and the Lake County Museum. The county presently owns the artifacts.

"This would make the ownership of the artifacts clear," Rebecca Goldberg, museum director, said.

The public information, education and museum committee as well as the development committee of the forest preserve voted to support a resolution backing the transfer. Forest preserve member Bruce Hanson explained financing would be done with a bond issue. There has been no amount set on the bond issue.

"This does not commit you to support the bond issue," Hanson said during the development committee meeting.

The finance committee of the Lake County Forest Preserve Board is expected to consider the plan Aug. 4. It meets at 9 a.m. at the Forest Preserve headquarters in Libertyville.

Goldberg said the artifacts are such items as carriages and wagons which need an environmentally controlled environment.

Some of the collection has been moved to the upstairs of the museum.

"We still have a need for 3,000 more square feet of storage space," Jan Gillmore-Smith, museum curator, said.

She said the controlled environment would include light, and heat protection.

Renovation of the dog pound would cost $200,000.

"We've been trying to work something out for a long time," Forest Preserve Board member James LaBelle said.

Goldberg explained that the housing of the artifacts in an environmentally controlled setting would better the museum's chances for accreditation. Only about one percent of museums are accredited by the American Assn. of Museums. Chicago area museums accredited include Botanic Gardens, the Chicago Art Institute and Field Museum.

"One of our goals is to broaden our base of support," Goldberg said, stating the accreditation would assist in fundraising and make the museum more competitive in trying for grants.

GLENWOOD

The sense of spacious luxury felt on entering the gabled and vaulted glass-paned entryway of the Glenwood carries through to the rest of this large contemporary home.

Nothing is cramped or crowded here. Inside, standing in the raised, light flooded entry, it's a choice between two worlds. The elegantly vaulted living room and dining room are two steps down and to the right. The other world, straight ahead and two steps down to the left, is the busy, informal family living area.

A big, U-shaped kitchen is at the heart of the Glenwood, convenient to the dining room as well as the family room. Snacking and quick meals are easy from the 6 1/2 foot eating bar. Cooks appreciate the generous counter and storage space, and plants flourish in the light from the bay window in front of the sink.

The family room is spacious enough for an informal dining table, not to mention a ping pong or pool table, TV, pin ball games, a computer game center or whatever. A soda fountain would fit neatly in the service bar.

Placing the bedrooms at the far end of the wing allows teenagers to crank up the volume on their sound systems without disturbing the quiet of the living room or master suite. A double vanity outside the toilet and tub area cuts down on early-morning traffic jams.

Built-in utilities and a guest room are located in a third wing of the house. Depending on tastes, the utility room could also double as a sewing or exercise room and the guest room could be a small home office or study. The wide three-car garage has space for a workbench and one section is long enough for a boat or camper.

Dressing, bath and closet areas of the master suite are huge. Gentle relaxation comes naturally in the spa, brightened by bay windows. Several can rinse off at once in the big shower with two shower heads, and the toilet, tucked in its own cubicle, is totally private. A pull-down cosmetic bar at the left end of the double vanity keeps hairdryers and cosmetics handy yet out of sight when not in use.

Access to the large deck or patio is from both the master suite and the family room. The size of the Glenwood requires an extra-wide lot.

For a study plan of the GLENWOOD (208-28), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Pet of the Week

It's the good life!

We are sisters, Baby & Pumpkin, 15 years old. We are calico angora cats and don't look at all alike. We are getting up in age so we do lay around the house a lot more than we used to, but at night still like to run and play especially when our owners are asleep. We love the aroma of cheese and hope our cute faces and a little begging will get us a morsel or two. Our owners are Barbara and Peter Abel of Lake Villa.

There will be a WMBI radio rally at the Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church at 6 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 6. WMBI is the flagship station of the Moody Broadcasting Network, which distributes religious radio programming for around 335 radio outlets around the nation. The meeting marks the eighth meeting of the church's annual series, "Ten Outstanding Summer Sunday Nights." The evening's speaker, Donald Cole, is the radio pastor for the network and teaches to thousands each week through his program, "Open Line, the Living Word," and "Christian Perspectives on the News." The meeting is open to the public, and will be held at the church's temporary home at the Antioch VFW Hall, North Ave., just east of Rte. 83. For more information, call the church office at (312)356-2090.

Day has many facets for Rep. Churchill

Editor's note: Lakeland Newspapers arranged to spend a day with State Representative Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa). The following is the first of a three-part series.

Very few people, including those who think they are knowledgeable about state government, are aware of the long and dedicated hours state legislators put in. This report on Rep. Robert Churchill, R-Lake Villa, offers insight about what he typically does during a day in the state legislature.

The House was in session until 9:03 p.m. Thursday, June 22. Afterward, Churchill, with others, met until midnight with a knowledgeable former colleague who had been in Congress to discuss how Illinois can benefit from the Bush administration policies. Churchill returned to his Springfield apartment at midnight, changed into walking clothes and walked for two miles on Friday, June 23, before returning for the night.

Now, here is the rest of that day:

7:50 a.m.—Churchill starts breakfast at his desk in his office in the State Capitol. The meal consists of Raisin Squares with oat bran, 2-percent milk and two glasses of grapefruit juice. In the office with him discussing issues important to Lake County and also learning how the state legislature operates is a local municipal official from Churchill's district.

8:02—After taking two phone calls, Churchill says he expects the big morning issue in the House to be a bill which would prohibit the sale of automatic and semi-automatic guns. He discusses the issue with the local official and with two others who walk into his office.

8:07—While still discussing the day's legislation, he starts to autograph pictures taken of the entire eighth grade class from the Lotus School in Antioch Twp.

8:10—Phone calls come in on legislation.

8:20—Back to signing the pictures, while also still trying to eat breakfast.

8:22—Churchill describes his filing system so that when somebody asks him how he voted on a certain bill, he can look it up immediately if he does not recall; as many as 6,000 bills are considered each biennial term.

8:25—The local official sitting in a chair, starts to eat his breakfast.

8:26—Back to the gun issue, Churchill reads more than a full page of gun names and models that would be outlawed by the bill; he had heard the names of only a few of these. He says this probably is a constitutional issue since many gun owners could argue that the weapons are legal.

He asks out loud, "Should any weapons be banned, and if so which should be banned?"

He comments that the issue goes from a squirt gun to a shoulder-fired rocket. "In between the two ends of the spectrum, there probably is a line on which most people can agree," Churchill says.

He then notes the political aspects of the issue. He says: "As an official representing my district, I have to consider what the people in the district want. Then I have to ask, is it in their best interest? Occasionally, we have to do what is in the best interest of the public rather than what the public wants."

"In the urban part of my district, people usually do not hunt or have guns. In the remainder of my district, there are a lot of hunting and gun clubs with people who favor recreational use of firearms. Lake County also headquarters Ducks Unlimited, with wide local representation. Also, politically, the NRA is a strong force in my district."

"I would like to ban the shooting of people. It's called 'murder.' But wackos still do it."

"This is a tough bill. People will be emotional on this issue, and there is not much of a middle ground."

8:45 a.m.—Churchill finishes reading the bill and calls it "confusing. We'll have to discuss it."

9:02—There is a visit from a former intern of Churchill's who came to pick up some papers he had left the day before.

9:05—Todd Gedville of Antioch, who has been sitting with us for a while, is introduced to the visitors by Churchill as this year's intern. Gedville is studying at Millikin University.

9:06—Churchill continues to study the gun bill and now states, "This bill needs balancing; the wording is such that if a person guesses wrong on what it means, it means he will get two years in jail and a $10,000 fine." He notes that Lt. Gov. George Ryan and Gov. James Thompson, on June 22, went to the floor of the Senate to get the bill passed there.

9:10—The calendar (which is available to the public) is brought into his office. His copy shows the Republican party position and the governor's position on bills of special importance.

9:15—He describes his role on the House floor as House Minority Whip. It is to let the House Republicans know if there is a party position on a bill, what the party position is and, then, to get the representatives to vote the party preference.

This is called a "hard nose county." He explains that a "soft nose count" is when he polls the legislators for their thoughts on specific bills. He says "it is important to know where members are on issues." He also is frequently consulted by House members on the significance of a bill.

9:19—His Republican colleague, Rep. Michael Tate from Decatur, tells us 114 bills are up for consideration today.

9:20 to 9:35—Does a new conference and a live radio broadcast on the issues of the day.

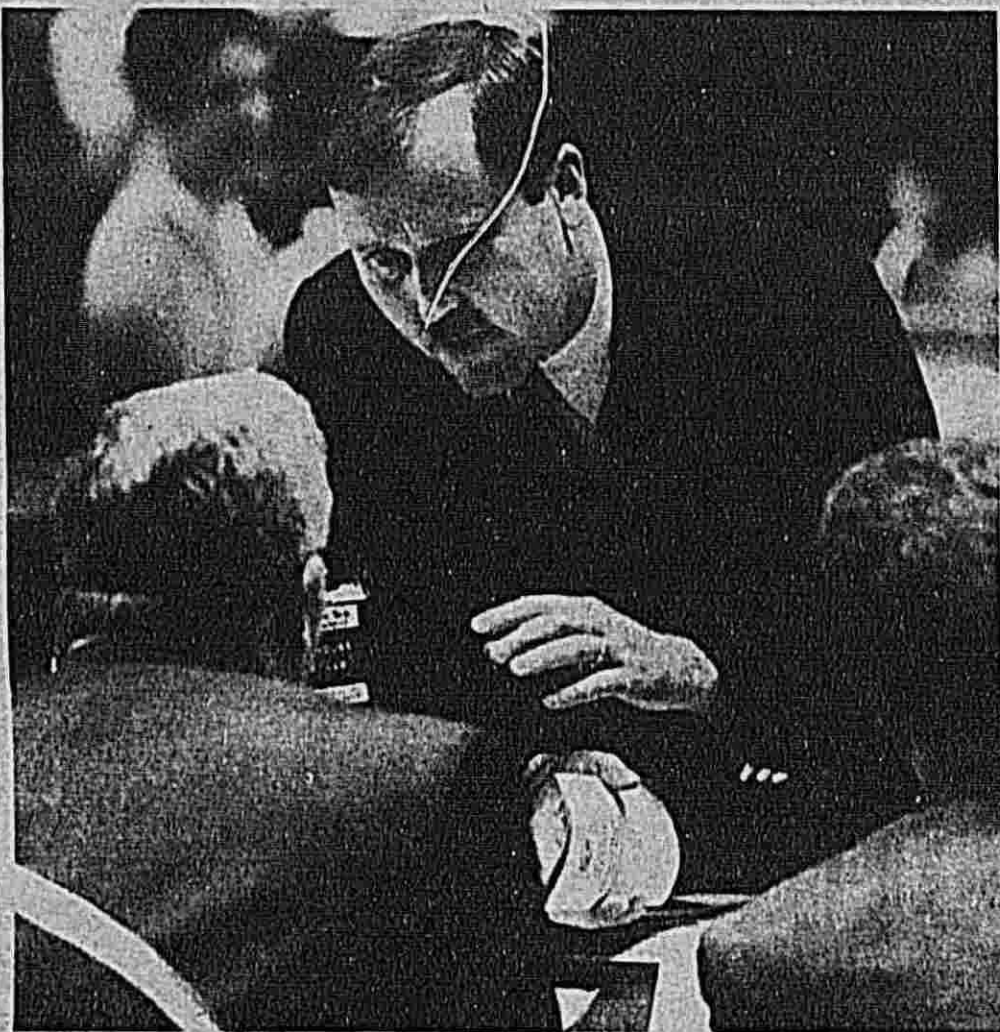

9:36—Returns several phone calls immediately before the House session begins.

9:51—Takes the 29 steps from the door of the minority leadership offices to the door of the House. During the walk he says it is not uncommon for 10 to 15 local officials from Lake County to be in his office throughout the day.

9:53—House pages (in two minutes) deliver 24 sheets of paper work to Churchill's desk on various issues in the House. The flood of paper documents continues all day, although not at this high a rate except at one other time during the afternoon.

Minority Whip gives advice

Rep. Robert Churchill, in his role as House Minority Whip, responds to a colleague asking the significance of a bill coming up for a vote. Churchill rarely is at his seat, as his leadership position requires him to be in constant touch with members of the House.

Ming faces October trial

Grayslake and Fox Lake grocer Jerry Ming has pleaded innocent to forgery charges.

Kevin Chick of Grayslake filed a suit against Ming for home improvements.

Max Vogel, investigator for the Lake County State's Atty. office, said amount was for $12,024.78. The trial will be Oct. 10.

The trial will be before Lake County Circuit Court Judge Stephen Walter.

Garbage planners need more money

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

Thirty-one member villages of the Lake County Solid Waste Planning Agency (SWPA), which is developing new garbage disposal methods for the 1990s, are being asked for additional contributions.

They are being asked to for one-half of their original membership or $1,500 to $500.

The money is needed to fund operations of the three-year-old agency through Nov. 30. Funds from an original $350,000 state grant and another $66,000 from the 32 county members have been exhausted.

Funds would have allowed the agency complete its work in June had new state requirements not been invoked, said William Barron, secretary of the Waukegan-based organization. These rules extended planning by six months, he said.

Among other requirements, the agency underwent a 90-day comment period on its plan for future disposal of solid waste. The 90 days is now ending. In addition, analysis and documentation of recycling methods required the extension of three consulting contracts at a cost of $40,000.

Attempts to obtain additional state funding for the agency's six more months work have been unsuccessful, Barron said.

The Lake County Board has already offered $100,000 in additional funding.

Following is a list of SWPA members and their original contribution.

Woodard resigns at Warren

By STEVE PETERSON

Lakeland Newspapers

Warren Twp. High School will have a new volleyball coach when the season starts Aug. 14.

Veteran Warren mentor Chris Woodard has resigned to accept a position at Highland Park High School, according to Warren Twp. High School Supt. Robert Shepherd.

"She was a very good coach. She did a good job in both softball and volleyball," Shepherd said.

Shepherd said he will be contacting Warren Board of Education members because practice starts the day before the board meeting Aug. 15.

"It probably will be in-house," Shepherd said of Woodard's replacement.

Felicia Moscaelli has been Woodard's longtime assistant in both sports.

In addition to her coaching duties, Woodard was a physical education teacher at Warren.

Warren won its own volleyball and softball regional championships last year. The Blue Devils were eliminated by Round Lake in the volleyball sectional at Mundelein and by Mundelein 1-0 in the softball sectional at Palatine.

In 1981 the Blue Devils advanced to the Elite Eight in softball.

Lancers select cheerleaders

College of Lake County's cheerleaders have been selected for the upcoming 1989-90 school year.

They are: Jackie Semasko, a 1988 Carmel graduate; Dana Sprague, a 1988 Grant graduate; Dana DeFilippis, a 1989 Carmel graduate; Karen Dexter, a 1989 Warren graduate; Lisa Dosenbach, a 1989 Warren graduate; Rachel Franz, a 1989 Salem Central High graduate; Jackie Herbiar, a 1989 Carmel graduate; Carolyn Kasper, a 1989 Carmel High graduate and Lynn Larsen, a 1989 Grayslake High graduate.

The Lancers Saturday conducted a clinic for some 75 youngsters ages six to 13, teaching them the basics of cheerleading.

fall, is a graduate of Warren Twp. High School in Gurnee, winners of many cheerleading awards including three-time champs in the 'Battle of the Cheerleaders' competition. - Photo by Steve Peterson.

Actor-football player Jackson paces dramatic Viking exhibition win

By STEVE PETERSON

Lakeland Newspapers

According to the 1989 Lake County Vikings schedule, the final game of the regular season will be Oct. 21 at Racine against the Racine Raiders.

But if Dale Jackson hears the phone ring and Stephen Spielberg or Ron Howard is on the other line talking about their next movie, he may have to change plans.

"I'd like to get into movies," Jackson said.

Jackson, a 1981 Warren Twp. High School graduate, had his hopes of a scholarship dashed because of an automobile accident his senior year. A walk-on at Central State College in Ohio, Jackson later would play semi-pro ball for Racine, Kenosha and, last year, DuPage.

The ex-Blue Devil started the game with a first-half touchdown and ended it with an interception. The Lake County team defeated the Chicago Panthers 18-11. The Vikings host DuPage at noon at North Chicago High Aug. 6.

The Vikings got better as the game progressed against the Panthers, a team which had won 17 out of its last 18.

Jackson fielded a Chicago punt at the 42 of the Vikings, saw an opening and raced 58 yards for a TD with 6:41 left in the second quarter.

"We've been experimenting with whom we like back there. We like Dale and Steve Borzik," special teams coach Norm Paulsen said. "It was a wedge and he started to go to the middle and that left the left side wide open," he said of the TD.

Darrell Banes scored from three yards out and a safety on a punt which flew out of the end zone for a 9-7 lead.

"That's when our momentum got to us," Jackson said.

After North Chicago grad Mike Baldwin, a standout on defense, blocked a Panthers field goal try, reserve quarterback Mike Monday, who played at Michigan State and Ferris State, engineered the team to a go-ahead field goal by Chris Fredricks.

Fredricks, who has kicked 50 yard field goals in practice, booted the 37-yard boot gave the Vikings a 10-9 lead with 7:31 left.

And Fredricks would not have been kicking at all but the regular kicker was unable to play.

A fumble recovery by Wayne Keitner led to the final score, a 60-yard pass from Monday to Kenny Allen with seven minutes left for a 16-9 lead.

Keitner then was credited with a safety with 3:30 left, making it 18-9. The Vikings ran the ball out of their own end zone in the final minute for the 18-11 final.

Viking notes: a twin brother of a player got into the game at least for a few minutes. The helmet and uniform looked authentic and he was in the right position - but Vikings Coach Al Clark noticed someone with tennis shoes playing in the first quarter. He was quickly removed from the game... Team part owner Rick Starosta, who also stacks uniforms, caught four passes in the game...A party will be held at All-Stars Bar and Grill Aug. 13, in Park City...The first regular season home game will be Aug. 20 at North Chicago High against Indianapolis and the Aug. 27 home game will be against Milwaukee and played at Mundelein High.

Summer hoops league proves just the remedy

By STEVE PETERSON

Lakeland Newspapers

"You're about three months early, aren't you," Ron Krapf said with a smile as I walked across the gym.

And, looking at the calendar, Krapf, the likeable Warren Twp. High statistician, of course, was right. There are still some 90 days before the basketballs will be wheeled out of the closets of gymnasiums for real across Lake, McHenry and Kenosha counties.

But in the last day of July, there was no better place for a basketball fanatic than the Waukegan West gymnasium. After all, the NBA is in its brief off-season, the high school camps are over for the most part and even the Prairie State Games are history.

The bleachers were only opened on one side, and they really didn't even need that many. "No dunks" sign is taped to the glass backboards. The rule is enforced as Zion-Benton found out at halftime of its game against Highland Park.

There are no coaches nattily attired in three-piece suits - those who come watch basketball games in summer shorts and don't coach during the games. There are no cheerleaders, no screaming moms and dads - 16 to 20 people watch as the four games progress in the opening round of the playoffs for the Waukegan West summer basketball league.

Overtime

"I'm happy with the progress we've made from the first game to the last game. We played much better together," Carmel Coach Scott Rosberg, whose team was 4-12 overall, said.

"We wanted to play as many people as possible against as good a competition as possible," Rosberg said.

The coach said the team "has a long way to go," though, before the "Tournament of Champions" over Thanksgiving at Warren.

Sean Ryan and David Montgomery were two players from last year's contingent who saw some degree of playing time who were sharpening their skills in the summer league.

West Coach Frank Belmont, directing the second-year camp, said the league gives coaches a chance to look at intangibles for next winter.

However, the former Carmel coach stressed that the camp "is many things but is not a predictor of success for next year," he said. He noted many teams do not have their full compliment of players for each game.

North Chicago won the regular season league play in the summer games both seasons and advanced to Tuesday night's title game against North Suburban Conference rival Zion-Benton.

Round Lake Coach Bob Ward, whose Panthers gave North Chicago a challenge before losing 47-40 in the first game, said he liked the structured league game atmosphere.

"The games are pretty competitive," he said.

There are a few rule changes from the winter: eight fouls before bonus, and when a team hits the limit the opposition may choose a free throw or take the ball out-of-bounds. A running clock is a blessing.

Overall, the first and fourth games of the night were the most exciting. In between, Waukegan West trounced Warren 75-49 and Zion clobbered Highland Park 90-57. In Warren's defense, the Blue Devils did have success in earlier summer leagues, finishing 6-6 in Chicago and defeating Evanston and New Trier, the two teams which have denied Coach Darrell Bader a trip to the Elite Eight the last two seasons. Warren also competed in a varsity and sophomore league hosted by Stevenson High.

Carmel challenged Waukegan East throughout, trailing 28-23 at halftime.

East opened up a 12-point lead in the second half. But a three-pointer by Chris Mohr and a layup by Deonsi Newell, two names for Corsairs fans to remember - closed the gap to 52-47 with 1:36 left.

East's Kelly Walker then calmly had a layup and a field goal and CHS could not get to within six points after that.

At Wilmot Speedway Libertyville's Poehler takes division lead

Toft Auto Racing's Wilmot Speedway will be hosting the super-modified Challenge Series Round III with spectator stocks. The first race in the Aug. 6 event will begin at 7:30 p.m.

A raindate has been set for Aug. 13.

Darrell Dodd of Beach Park scored a clean sweep in the winged sprints by posting fast time, winning his heat and the 25-lap feature on Antioch Pizza Shop Night at Wilmot.

Mike Frost of Zion expanded his point lead in the late models by winning his fifth 25-lap main, John Poehler of Libertyville scored his fourth 15-lap spectator stock feature win.

Frank Flisko took the lead for the first four circuits of the sprint main before Al Behling took the top spot. Behling and Flisko went wing to wing the next several circuits until Flisko's engine let go coming out of turn four while he was leading. Bahling inherited the lead on the restart, but it was short-lived as Dodd put his J&L Oil-Hot Rod Shop-Lettering by Beaver Dog Gambler in front on lap nine and went on to score his second main event win this year. Gil Wiser, Bob Robel, pointleader Dave Hanna and Carmen Manzardo completed the top five. "The car was really hooked up. We could run just about anywhere on the track we wanted," Dodd said.

Rick Schley took the lead in the modified main which was slowed six times by caution flags for various incidents. Lenny Ostrowski Jr. took the lead by inches over Schley just prior to the race's final yellow flag with six laps to go. Frost put his Zion NAPA Auto Supply-Carpet World-Z-B Lanes modified in contention as he and Ostrowski went at it wheel to wheel in the open wheels during the final laps.

Coming for the checkered flag, Ostrowski spun in turn four with Frost coming across the finish line first. Schley, Howie Gleason, Tim Cox and Allen Winker completed the top five under the checkered-yellow flags.

"We got really close and with as rough as it was on the cushion, its surprising we never touched," said Frost, three-time defending Wilmot champion.

Mike Dubs paced the field for the first nine circuits of the late model main until Maywald worked his Woodstock Auto Body-Schliepper's Speed Shop-D's Marine Service Firebird in front on lap 10. A caution on lap 14 for a spun car slowed the field, but Maywald was able to pull away for the win. Dubs edged out Ed Davall for runnerup with Jim Gehrig fourth and Donny Ketcham fifth.

Mike Poehler had 563 points for sixth place after the July 22 race.

The modified second heat was red flagged when Gary Dye went over the wheel of another mount heading down the backstretch and barrel-rolled, bouncing off the guardrail. Dye was transported to Burlington Hospital and released.

Kemper Lakes staffers brace for PGA invasion

Steve Lesnik took a break from non-stop thinking about golf to bring a football analogy to the conversation.

"It's a mixture of fantastic excitement and nervous anticipation. It's like in football when you're most nervous just before kickoff," Lesnik said.

And when 150 golfers of the Players Golf Assn. professionals converge on Kemper Lakes for the PGA Championship Aug. 7, it will mark the end to seven years of planning.

Aug. 7, 8 and 9 will be practice rounds where golf fans can watch the best players in the world show their skills.

"A lot of people come to watch the practice rounds because they are more informal and the players and caddies will talk to you," he said.

Ticket prices for the practice round is $15.

Lesnik said some 4,000 tickets still remain for the first major golf championship to come to Lake County at the Hawthorn Woods course.

Course officials were originally going to limit the crowds to 25,000 a day but 21,000 tickets have been sold. The tickets cost $35 apiece. A gate crowd of 3,000 to 5,000 people a day is expected.

"We've been preparing the course for several months now with a special turf maintenance product," Lesnik said.

Play at the course has been curtailed this year in order to get it ready for first the Grand Slam of Golf held over Memorial Day weekend and then the PGA. Former PGA Tournament

Dir. Jack Tuthill was also consulted for his familiarity with top-flight tournament golf courses.

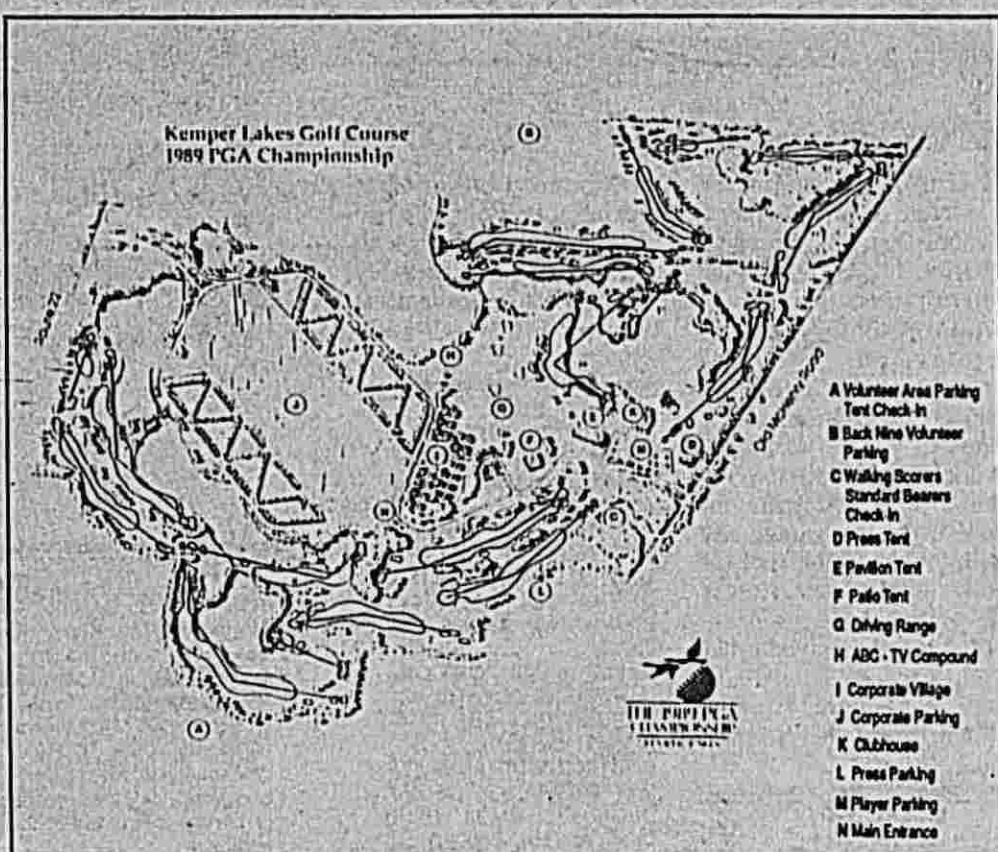

Kemper Lakes is a 10-year old course as it opened for play in 1979.

Chicago has not hosted a major PGA event since 1975 when the U.S. Open was played at Medinah. All told, four PGA tournaments have been held in Illinois.

Two-time PGA title winner Lee Trevino, Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Tom Watson, Greg Norman, Nick Faldo and Bernhard Langer are all committed to play in the tournament.

Lesnik said some 25 staffers have been added for the tournament.

There are 10 par fours on the 7,197 yard course, four par threes and 10 par fives. The longest hole is a 578 yard par five 15.

Two parking lots will accommodate golf fans

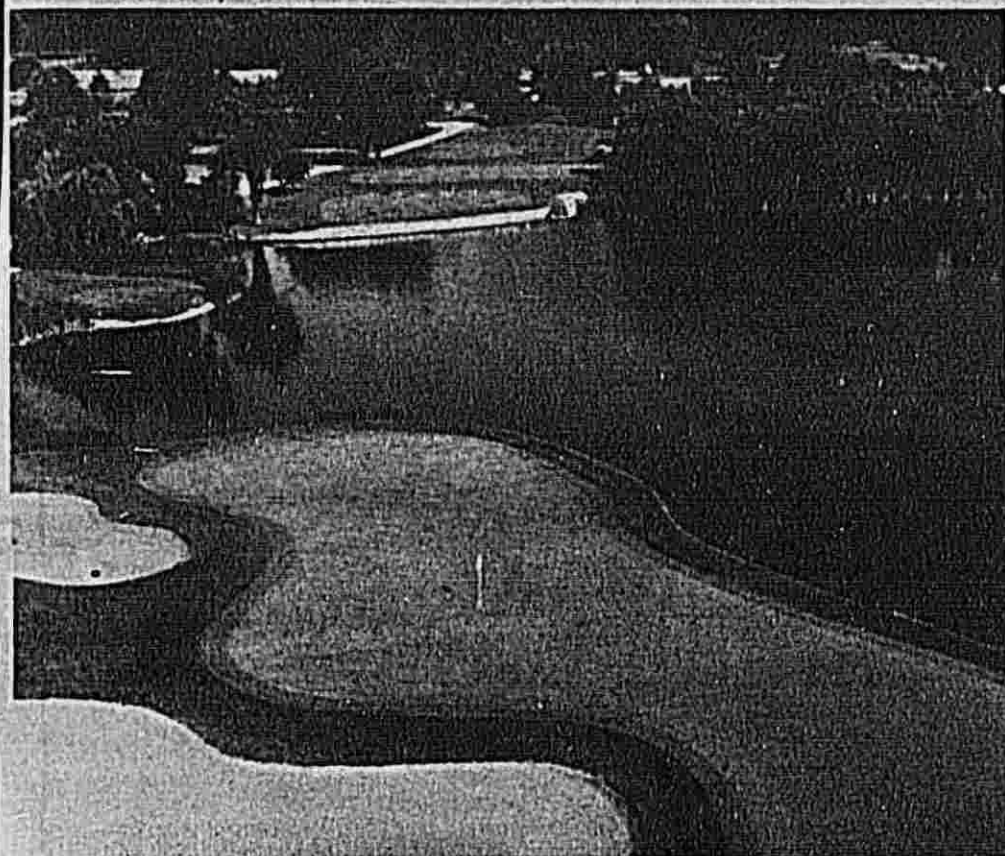

Two 60 acre parking lots will be available for the general public at Kemper Lakes PGA Championship, one at the southwest corner of Rte. 22 and Old McHenry Rd. and another at the northeast corner of Rte. 22 and Quentin Rd. Parking problem is foreseen by tournament organizers. Ten shuttle buses will be running from each lot to the tournament on a continuous basis throughout the day.

On Aug. 7, 8 and 9, the practice round days, the lots will open at 7 a.m. and the gates to the course at 7:30 a.m. On Aug. 10 and 11, the first two days of the tournament, the lots will open at 6 a.m. and the gates at 6:30 a.m. On Aug. 12 and Aug. 13, the lots will open at 6:45 a.m. and the gates at 7:15 a.m.

Handicapped spectators may be dropped off at the Old McHenry Rd. entrance to the clubhouse. Handicapped parking is available at the first fairway parking lot 300 yards south of the Old McHenry Rd. entrance on the right. To secure a handicapped access pass, call (312) 540-4700.

Points of interest

Kemper Lakes is a 7,197 yard par 72 course which will host the 1989 Players Golf Assn. (PGA) championship. The course has been rated 55th toughest in the nation by the magazine Golf Digest. The course will include bleachers at the first tee, eighth, ninth, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th and 18th green.

Dist. 34 working on storage tank revamp

According to Supt. Don Skidmore of Antioch Grade School Dist. 34, the school district is presently in the process of complying with Illinois Environmental Protection Agency regulations involving underground storage tanks.

As an initial step, the school district is removing the 275 gallon waste oil tank at the bus garage and will get rid of the fuel oil tank at Antioch Lower Grade School.

The board received a bid from Synder's Bulk Plant Service, Amboy, Ill., for $7,950 to do the removal work.

The board also considered looking at replacing the two underground gas tanks with a single tank and possibly also abandoning the tanks at Oakland and W. C. Petty schools.

Lakeland Newspapers

Lake County At A Glance

New stores

GURNEE—The i's may not be crossed and the l's may not be dotted, but Gurnee Mayor Dick Welton is looking to expand by two the number of grocery stores he has an interest in. Welton, chief executive officer of Welton's Management Services, is looking to bring a Ciba Foods store to Waukegan and a Newmarket store to Gurnee. The Newmarket store would be located in the Shops at Collonade shopping center, off Rte. 132 across the street from Great America.

Restricts permits

LAKE ZURICH—The Lake Zurich Village Board approved an ordinance restricting issuance of building and occupancy permits at the southeastern plat. At a special meeting, Mayor James Kay signed the document that will put the village into compliance with the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency's (IEPA) regulations. The IEPA began taking action against the village May 1988 because the southeastern sewer treatment plant was overcapacitated, allegedly violating state and federal standards, and a consent decree between the village and the IEPA was signed last week.

Lambs annexation

GREEN OAKS—Village trustees will consider annexing Lambs Farm off of Rte. 176 at its Thursday, Aug. 10 meeting. The annexation process began two years ago and trustees are very confident that the deal will be finalized next week. The board had originally planned to complete the annexation last week, but paperwork modification caused a delay.

Rid of rust

ANTIOCH—The Village of Antioch will hopefully be rid of a long-time problem it has had with rusty water. According to Mayor Robert Wilton, under the advice of two experts, the village will be spending $1,000 to install a new meter in each of its five wells which will implement the adding of aquadec and chlorine in separate steps to the village water supply. At present the chemicals are being added at the same time.

Calls for preserve

ISLAND LAKE—According to Mickey Stahl, of Mylith Park Property Owners Assn. Chairman, their presentation requesting the Lake County Forest Preserve Land Acquisition Committee to acquire some land adjacent to Slocum Lake went well. Although the Committee told the association that they don't have the money to buy the 100 acres just south and north of Rte. 176, it would be a building block to obtain support for a $120 million bond issue for Committee Chairman F.T. "Mike" Graham. Stahl noted that Island Lake Mayor Charles Amrich was encouraging, and the association is expected to present the issue to the Island Lake Trustees this week.

Teens bank $1,400

LINDENHURST—The Lindenhurst Park Dist.'s Teen Program has accumulated a bank account of $1,400 from mowing the village's recycling center every Saturday and from donations. Waste Management, who donates bins and hauling for the recycling program, has so far sent the group a total of $680. Now, the park district board would like suggestions from the teens as to what they would like to spend the money on. Board members suggested Tuesday that a place be set aside for skaters who have nowhere to ride their skateboards. But, Attorney Robert Rolek told the board the liability insurance would be too high and the risks too great to allow it, unless it were supervised skating on a flat surface. But, he said, "I don't think it'll be as thrilling as what they have in mind."

Carmel expanding

MUNDELEIN—Carmel High School in Mundelein is seeking funds to allow for future expansion. The Catholic school is planning to solicit $3 million from countywide supporters for more gymnasium space, a larger student scholarship fund and creating a faculty enhancement fund. The success of the multi-million dollar project, called "Carmel 2000," will depend on donations from alumni, parents, corporate sponsors and other supporters. Dir. of Development Bill Warner believes the school can raise these necessary funds within a year.

Plans recycling

WAUCONDA—Wauconda Village Board voted to go ahead with a recycling program. Village Trustee John Amrich told the board that his committee agreed to get started on a recycling program for Wauconda after he attended a seminar on the subject. Waste Management of Lake County, a division of Waste Management of Illinois, presented a recycling program.

Storytelling

Although last weekend's weather was less than conducive to an outdoor storytelling festival, almost 2,000 tale fanciers were at the Illinois Storytelling Festival in Spring Grove, listening to yarn spinning between the dark clouds and showers here and there.

Raise liquor fees

LIBERTYVILLE—Liquor license fees have been hiked between 50 and 100 percent by action of the village board this week and the number frozen at 34. As of May 1 next year, the cost of Class A licenses for bar and packaged sales will go from the current $1,200 to $2,400 and the popular Class F licenses for packaged wine, beer and liquor sales will increase from $1,000 to $2,000. There are 13 licenses in each category. All other license fees went up 50 percent. This is the first such increase in 13 years, village officials say, which still leaves Libertyville fees below those of surrounding communities. The added fee will cover the cost of administering and policing the licenses. Based on a population formula, the village is allowed 45 licenses.

Next railroad hub

MUNDELEIN—This village could become a commuter railroad hub on the Wisconsin Central railroad, which is the former Soo Line. The North Suburban Mass Transit Dist. (NORTAN) sees several locomotive and 20 double-deck commuter train cars leaving and departing Mundelein each day with stops in Vernon Hills, Buffalo Grove, Wheeling and Prospect Heights. Villages must provide some of the amenities, possibly including a depot and parking lot. Mayor Marilyn Sindles said Mundelein has no money for depot even with the prestige that might come from having the commuter line terminal here.

Porter forum Sat.

LAKE BLUFF—Congressman John Porter (R-Wilmotte) of the 10th Dist. will hold his sixth 1989 public forum on Saturday, Aug. 5, at Lake Bluff Junior High School from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Opening topic will be: "Defense spending: the implications of glasnost" in which the uneasy peace that now exists between this county and Russia will be discussed.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Focus now on creative expression, love and romance.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Creative interests are stimulated. Thoughts about travel to faraway places are a mind trip and impractical. Focus attention on siblings.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Focus on writing, correspondence and communications, in general, when you are articulate. Be serious regarding spending and finances.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Even though you are in high spirits, unresolved questions exist over a relationship. You may feel like pulling out and starting over.

Cancer (June 22 to Jul. 21) Questions arise over your status at work, as you feel locked into a negative situation. Hold firm — gain will come unexpectedly. Family needs attention.

Leo (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Charm and popularity are running above par. Guard against overconfidence in a romantic situation. Promises may not be kept; be wary of strangers.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Needing reassurance is one way to get matters sidetracked. Be confident and move ahead. Others look to you for leadership and inspiration.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Your financial situation is precarious when credit is used to shore up the budget. Invest in your future. Keep your lifestyle within limits.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Your unusual values are recognized by others. Spirits are boosted — confidence regained. Research future career potentials with precision.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Personality counts a lot today when it wins you admiration and acceptance. Your agreeable nature can mend fences and heal old wounds.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get a second opinion on a partner's financial proposal. Love can be a demanding affair when feelings are not expressed openly and with feeling.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Put more energy into your social life. It is difficult to plan if you wait until the last minute. Ignore minor disputes among family and friends.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Concentrate on your creative aspirations. You realize that art and music are what make us human. Beautify your surroundings with some spending.
